The arraignment was at Warren.

The three male prisoners were charged with murder and were also held without bail. All four persons pleaded not guilty.

They were locked up at Warren pending a hearing set for September 16. Mrs. Mohr was arrested this morning at the Mohr home in the exclusive Elmwood section of this city following the

EUGENIA KELLY, GOTHAM HEIRESS, IS TO MARRY AL DAVIS, HER TANGO HERO

The gaudy, glittering romance of Miss Eugenia Kelly, who is the daughter of the late New York banker and has a million lovely dollars in her own right—the gaudy, glittering romance of the New York tango "dancer" and their parasitic coteries, supposed to have been squashed when Miss Kelly promised a New York magistrate to go home with mother and be a nice little girl thereafter—well, it's come up anew. For Miss Kelly refused to stay home with mamma. And she refused to give up her old infatuation. Especially dear she refused to give up Al Davis, the Broadway toe twirler and tango fellow.

GERMANS TAKE OUTER FORTS NEAR GRODNO

Berlin, Sept. 2. (Via London)—German forces attacking the Russian fortress of Grodno have taken the outer forts of the stronghold, it was officially announced by German army headquarters today.

London, Sept. 2.—The British tactical point commanding the Buviuk Anafarta valley to the east and north, as well as making an appreciable gain along the Anatolian front. If the British now dominate Anafarta their guns should have a clear field to fire upon one of the main Turkish supply roads leading toward Achi Baba. The Turks however, have an alternative line of communication with this part of their front. Constantinople has admitted to advance on the part of the allies.

The Russians are developing unexpected strength in the north where they state they are not only holding Field Marshal Von Hindenburg but have gained a local success near Vilna. Various changes have been made in the Russian command, the most important being the return of General Ruskay to the leadership of the Northern army.

Berlin wireless reports, which usually are a day or two in advance of the Petrograd official communication, announce a reversal in the Galician situation as the result of a victorious assault on the Russians north of Zborow. The English press is interested keenly in the German promises of a change of tactics in submarine warfare, and attaches considerable significance to the news that Admiral Von Tirpitz is to have a vacation. This is interpreted as indicating that Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg has won a dominant victory over his naval colleague in the German cabinet.

GENERAL APPOINTED

Petrograd, Sept. 1. (via London, Sept. 2)—Official announcement was made today that Gen. Yanshevich, chief of Grand Duke Nicholas' staff, has been appointed assistant viceroy of the Caucasus. He will be succeeded as chief of staff by General Alexiev, commander in chief of the armies on the northwestern front.

SENDS MESSAGE BY GIBBONS REGARDING PLAN FOR WAR'S END

Washington, Sept. 2.—Cardinal Gibbons today presented to President Wilson a message from Pope Benedict regarding peace in Europe. Later he saw Secretary Lansing on the same subject.

After his conference at the White House the cardinal announced that he had discussed the possibilities of peace with the president. He said that he had conveyed a message from the pope on the question but could not reveal its exact contents at this time.

Cardinal Gibbons declared that the settlement of the submarine issue between the United States and Germany had greatly aided the cause of peace and had placed the United States in a very advantageous position to be of service in bringing to an end the conflict abroad.

While the cardinal would not go into details regarding his message from the pope, it was indicated that it was in the nature of a suggestion that neutral powers join with the Vatican in making further efforts to restore peace. The cardinal said that the plan in mind was along the general lines of recent public discussion of the question in newspaper.

Cardinal Gibbons was with the president nearly half an hour. He was accompanied by Monsignor William T. Russell, rector of St. Patrick's Catholic church here. President Wilson would not comment on the visit.

In answer to inquiries the cardinal said that he had brought to the president a message from the pope. He added that he wanted to talk with Secretary Lansing on peace and go over the same details he had taken up with President Wilson.

The cardinal seemed pleased at his interview and his manner suggested that he was hopeful. He laid emphasis on his belief that the lessening of tension between the United States and Germany would have much to do with the possibilities of restoring peace.

It was indicated that the basis for his belief was a suggestion that it might be possible to get an agreement between Germany and Great Britain guaranteeing the freedom of the seas and start peace terms. The cardinal said he believed negotiations would soon be under way to end the war. He indicated further developments might become known soon.

PEACE WITH KAISER SEEN BY OFFICIALS

Washington, Sept. 2.—With both oral and written assurances from the German government, transmitted through Count Von Bernstorff, it was authoritatively stated, will be a formal disclosure of the sinking of the submarine, and reparations will be made for American lives lost in the disaster if the attack was made by a German submarine.

With the situation growing out of the Arabic incident out of the way, Germany's reply to the last American note on the Lusitania will be forthcoming. If that is satisfactory to the United States, it is believed that the Washington government will then turn its attention to the problem of neutral commerce.

A note to Great Britain already is in course of preparation. The two issues, however, are being kept entirely distinct, President Wilson having consistently refused to allow the question of neutrality and commerce to be involved along with the submarine problem.

VICE PRESIDENT OF CHINA RESIGNS

Shanghai, China, Sept. 2.—Li Yuan Heng has resigned as vice president of the Chinese republic. The interpretation placed upon his act is that it is preparatory to the establishment of a monarchy, which is popularly regarded as virtually certain.

A dispatch from Peking last night said that the failure of Li Yuan Heng, who has been virtually a prisoner in the palace ground for many months, to attend yesterday's session of the advisory council had been made the basis of a sensational story published by the Peking newspapers. Li Yuan Heng was reported in Peking to have requested from President Yuan Shi Kai, permission to depart from the forbidden city. He is said to have informed the president that he would not oppose the re-establishment of a monarchy, but would not subscribe his name to a petition favoring the project.

425,000 HORSES SHIPPED

Washington, Sept. 2.—To date 425,000 horses and mules have been shipped out of the United States for the European belligerents, department of agriculture officials said today. The supply is not being seriously depleted government officials estimating that there are today approximately 21,000,000 horses and four million mules in this country.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE JUMPS TEN CENTS

London, Sept. 2.—American Exchange moved up ten cents during the morning. The rapid fluctuations which marked this unusual advance were due principally to the large amount of stock brought out by yesterday's low level.

There was a wide opening with a range of 4.52 to 4.54, with few buyers. The amount of dollar offerings became so large that buyers abstained from operating so that only sellers were in the market. The cable transfer rate was forced up to 4.62 before noon. The shorts immediately covered and brought down the rate to 4.59-60. One large American Exchange dealer said the recovery was due in part to the discounting of probabilities, it being expected that some official arrangement would be announced soon.

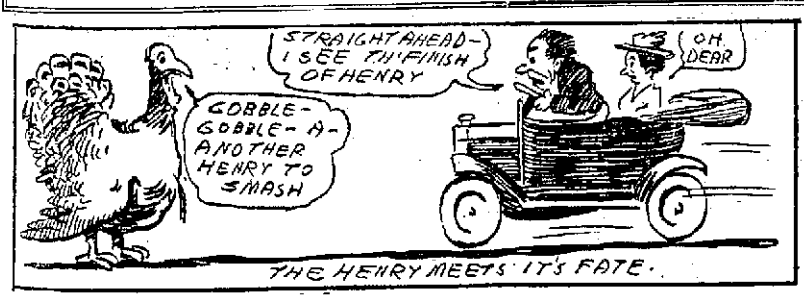

At the same time a good deal of speculation is going on, and also there is no doubt that yesterday's heavy sales of American securities at the low level of exchange assisted the upward movement. The market was very erratic, however.

PARIS POLICE LOOK FOR ALLEGED TRUST

Paris, Sept. 2.—Acting on charges made in the report of the chamber of deputies committee on commerce and industry that a trust has been formed to illegally corner the supply of calcium carbide, large quantities of which are used by the army for lighting purposes, Paris police are searching the offices of a number of companies engaged in its manufacture and sale.

All Piketon Grieves For "Henry," Which Was Attacked And Destroyed By Turkey Gobbler

By VAN
Our old friend (Y) from Piketon will never ride in his little "Henry" again. "Stoo bad, but from the dope that is being dispensed in and around that flourishing city it's all off with that special little auto. (Y). It's a sad story, and owing to the fact that this gentleman and his Henry have broken into print several times before this should remain "unwritten," but when some person dies mention is always made of it, and folks hereabouts have begun to look upon this Piketon Henry as a person—and a noisy one.

Some will read with glee this obituary, while others will shed genuine tears.

But, however, it being our faithful duty to chronicle all important events it would be unethical to get "scooped" on this one.

"Henry's" last ride, it might be called, and was a novelist writing this one he could make it very thrilling, but the bare details must suffice.

The gentleman from Piketon started out again several afternoons ago, this time going to-wards Waverly. He had no destination in mind, and was just enjoying a spin.

And incidentally, the saddest part of this tale is that he was accompanied on this ride by a fair and very dear maiden. He had refrained from taking her along on other trips on account of the fact that his "Henry" had become frightened at lightning, but this was a fair day, so he invited her for the spin.

"They were going along at a fair clip when a large turkey gobbler ran out into the road, sized up the 'Henry,' advanced on same and utterly demolished it," friends of the Piketon gentleman assert.

"And he and his fair companion were forced to hoof it back to Piketon," they continue.

Funeral arrangements had not been made up until press time.

TURKISH TRANSPORTS SENT TO BOTTOM?

Paris, Sept. 2. (2:35 p. m.)—Four Turkish transports have been torpedoed by British submarines. Announcement to this effect was made here today officially as follows:

"In the Dardanelles the last week of August has been calm throughout on the southern front. In the northern zone British troops delivered successful attacks which put them in possession of a hillock to the west of Buviuk Anafarta, which had been contested keenly.

"To the transport sunk on the 20th of August by one of our aviators in the anchorage at Acabashilmun is necessary to add four transports torpedoed by British submarines; two of them at the same point and two others between Gallipoli and Nagara.

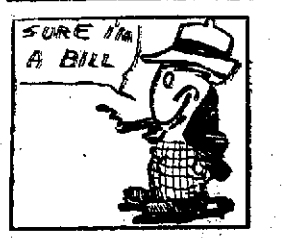

"The guns of the battleship have hit several vessels anchored in the straits.

ENGLISH POUND RISES; NOW SELLS AT $4.59

New York, Sept. 2.—The English pound sterling rose as rapidly and dramatically today as it had plunged downward during the week. Within the first two hours of trading it was but one point below where it rested at the close of the market last Saturday.

With an opening quotation of 4.58, a gain over night of four cents, sterling rose in value during the forenoon till it touched $4.60, ten cents above yesterday's extreme depreciation. Then it went down to $4.59 where the market, though erratic and somewhat puzzled by its rapid fluctuations, was easier than at any time during the week. The swift upward course was interpreted as meaning that Great Britain had awakened to the extreme gravity of the situation and that London bankers had determined that sterling should no longer be the football of finance in relations between the countries. With painful realism the status of their money was brought home to them yesterday when sterling was quoted in their markets at home at $4.48, two cents beneath the minimum posted here.

Overnight, London gathered up the frayed ends and united them, and a ten cent advance in rates at the opening of the market was the result.

HUNTING AND FISHING IN MONTANA

Written For The Times By Attorney Arthur H. Bannon---Don't Miss Any Of The Installments.

(Second Installment)
On the second day with the ranger our pathway became so strewn with real mountainous difficulties that, after wandering about for hours with sublime confidence in our new guide of "Babe in the Wood," we finally realized that our opinions as to best route were as good as the ranger's and we began to take a hand in helping him find best way to go. While so engaged with our pack outfit at a standstill and everybody looking for the hole in the wall, the ranger for some unexplained reason disappeared and we have not seen him since. (We heard on our way out, about six weeks later, that he had come out safely, but had said nothing about us.) So far as we know, there was absolutely no excuse for his conduct. It was raining and snowing at the time, and we were in a gulch filled with brush and down timber and, after picking the best camp site available, we camped for the night and to reconnoiter.

In the morning the ground was covered with snow, and Neal and Blair had to chop out a couple of miles of trail through one of the worst "jack-pots" in the mountains in order to get our horses to a camping ground where they could get something to eat. Blair's broncho fell and rolled over a time or two during the day—the second exhibition of the kind thus far. Everything and everybody got wet, the horses were hungry and we were in a humor to ask Mr. Townsend to explain had we met him. Next day the scarcity of horse feed caused us to move camp in a heavy snow-storm and, after making ourselves as comfortable as we could under the circumstances, we proceeded to fight out a way over what had become of Townsend. His nickname in Augusta is "Mud," and he surely would have appreciated it had we found him then. We did find the trail of his horse and followed it for miles, but finally decided that the horse was rickety, and, knowing that the horse was a "bucker," the mystery of "Mud" deepened. Being now on the very edge of the Preserve, we decided to try to make a way around its extreme southern end, which is bounded by Scapegoat Mountain, rather than retrace our steps of the two days before. We therefore figured out a tortuous winding trail over and along the rim rocks, and around the edge of the famous Chinese wall of Scapegoat Mountain. This mountain has an elevation of 9185 feet and is composed of nine peaks, the tops of which are practically always snow-bound. Which of these nine peaks is the real corner to the Game Preserve, we do not know. Most of them were marked by bronze bench marks put there by United States Engineers, and it may be that, in attempting to go around the real corner of the Game Preserve, the tails of some of our horses blew over the line. But we could not avoid that, for the weather on that eventful day was something terrible. We had climbed the mountain from early morning until about noon in at least six inches of snow. We met another cow elk with her calf, and they did not seem to fear us much. Above the timber line we came out on a rocky ridge, which was more like a knife edge than a trail. The wind was blowing a gale and it was freezing cold. Bruce and I were in the lead and Blair and Green behind the pack horses along behind us. It was not safe to ride. The danger of a horse falling or being blown over the cliffs was too great, and several times the pack horses were simply blown from the trail and lost sight of in the storm, but Blair and Green always found them, huddled together in some of the scrub timber down on the lee side of the mountain or in behind the rocks where the wind was not so strong. When being blown off the trail this way, they never stopped in their efforts to escape the snow, until confronted with some barrier of rocks, timber or precipice. We were quite busy, during about four hours and a half of that kind of going and our hands and faces became numb with the cold, and we had to rub them frequently to keep them from being frost bitten. Think of it! Frost bitten on September fourteenth! The only mishap of the day, however, was a fall sustained by Bruce's pack mare, Bessie. She slipped, tried to regain her feet, but fell over backwards down a steep declivity, and never stopped sliding and rolling until she had gone about a hundred and fifty feet, sliding most of the way with her feet up in the air, riding on top of her pack, which contained my suit case and guns. Fortunately for her and the pack, the cinch rope broke after she had rolled about one hundred feet and her pack gave way, scattering its contents over the snow and rocks.

This relieved the mare and she rolled over a few times, and, having better use of herself, was able to effect a landing against some brush and rocks. Bruce tried to stop her at the start but in so doing was dragged under his saddle horse and barely escaped complicating the mixup with himself and horse. When he regained his feet and saw his mare rolling to what looked like certain destruction, he called to her in pathetic tones, "Good bye, Bess, I did all I could for you," but just then Bess landed on the brink of another declivity, more dangerous than the one above her, and in an instant the pathos disappeared from Bruce's voice and he began to upbraid (?) her in true cowboy style for stopping in such a place. Bruce rescued her, and the only damage consisted of a smashed pack saddle and a badly bruised mare.

This is guaranteed to be one of the greatest hits in the history of the silent drama, and is sure to be seen by capacity audiences. Watch the Times for interesting announcements concerning "Wormwood" and "Sampson."

will come to a close in a rip-roaring riot of fun in a Nestor comedy entitled "Dad." All this for five cents. The playing of the Wurlitzer Orchestra costing $1500, is an added attraction that in itself is worth the price of admission. Many of the leading musicians of the city have given their heartiest approval of this great machine, claiming the music is high class and very pleasing.

At Temple Theatre
The program for tonight is a Kay Bee production in two parts, entitled "The Play of the Season," an eventful drama. The third reel is a Reliance production, a near-tragedy of fisher life with a new star, Adoni Pavieri. The fourth reel is a comedy entitled "Making Over Grandpa."

At The Scenic
"A Lesson in Romance" an Essanay three act photo-play, featuring Lillian Drew, E. H. Calvert, Eugene Asker, Marion Skinner and Jack Meredith. It is a thrilling dramatic production, full of heart interest. The love plot is one that appeals to the emotions of all. The scenic background is unusually beautiful, the scenes having been taken in the picturesque Tennessee mountains at Chattanooga and in the beautiful homes of aristocratic Southern families. "Music in Flats," a screamingly funny Edison comedy, with William Wadsworth and Arthur Housman as the chief fun-makers, will close the show. You had better see this good show to night. Tomorrow's feature is the Broadway Star Feature in three parts, entitled "Lifting the Ban of Coventry." It is a thrilling story of Military Post life, featuring Lillian Walker and Darwin Kerr.

Tires 30x3 1/2

Also 30x3

With Three More Extras

Note that the Goodyear has for years held the leading place. It has proved its supremacy to hundreds of thousands. No other tire has ever won so many users.

Even the 30x3 size is a four-ply tire. And the All-Weather tread on it is made double-thick.

Added Size

This year we've increased our small-tire size. We have added 20 per cent to the air capacity—the factor which carries the load.

We have added 30 per cent to the side-wall rubber—just above the head. That's where constant flexing breaks so many tires. And we've made new molds because a new design has shown increased endurance.

$317,000 Extra

These three new extras will this year cost us $317,000. They will save our users ten times that at more.

No like capacity was ever before embodied in a small-size tire. Yet this year we made another big price reduction.

Get these new extras when you next buy tires. See for yourself what they add to your mileage. Don't take smaller, thinner tires when Goodyears offer these things.

FIRST RAILS LAID ON OUR FIRST INTERURBAN

Without any pomp or ceremony the first rail on the extension of the Ohio Valley Traction company's line from

Sciotoville to Ironton was laid at Franklin Furnace Wednesday afternoon. The workmen are laying rails west of Franklin Furnace and expect to soon have this portion of the work completed as far as Wheelersburg. Contracing used. "We will not be able to operate cars over the extension on December 1 as we had planned," said General Manager Raymond York of the traction company Thursday. "We have received word that the four new cars we ordered will be shipped December 1 and we will bend every energy to have the extension ready for operation by January 1."

Mr. York stated that the work would have been completed had not the contractors been delayed so much by rain this summer.

To Keep Hair in Curl on Hot or Damp Days
(Town Tattler)
This is a secret that will, I know, be appreciated by my lady who dislikes the tedious and "chattering" lack of twisting her locks around a heated iron. Certainly singeing the hair, burning off the ends, and blistering fingers or scalp in the operation from any drastic procedure a few ounces of pure liquid salicylic acid and at night pour a little into a clean tooth brush and draw it down the full length of the hair. The simple thing to do, but remarkably efficient, as will be apparent in the morning.

The hair will have a wonderfully soft, fluffy curliness, much more natural looking, glossier and livelier in appearance than where a waving iron has been used, and the effect will last much longer. As salicylic acid doesn't irritate the hair, itchy or greasy, there will be no trouble in doing it up in any style, and it will hold its curl in damp or foggy, hot or windy weather.—Olga Grimschaw.

Mr. Wilhelm said he would use the city's supply of sand bags and throw up a temporary embankment two or three feet high along Campbell avenue from Jackson street to Fifth street to hold out the water that flows in from Funk's Gut, at a 55½ ft. stage. Mr. Wilhelm said that since 1832 there has been a 55 ft. stage on an average of only once in every five years.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT

Portsmouth, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Portsmouth evidence of their merit.

Mrs. Harry Daulton, 618 Eleventh street, Portsmouth, says: "I believe a gold brought on kidney trouble in my case. I had a severe pain in the small of my back and found great difficulty in doing my housework. The action of my kidneys was irregular and the kidney secretions were unnatural. My feet swelled so badly that I couldn't put my shoes on and I had purty spots under my eyes. I doctored and used several medicines with no relief. The first few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills made me feel better and by the time I had finished a full box, all signs of kidney trouble left and I was cured."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Daulton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ITS GLORY DEPARTED.

In what we are going to say here we must open by protest that we have neither purpose nor desire to trench upon the province of the rare and wise Dolly Wise. To her we leave for solution and direction the eternal problems of the maid forlorn, Blue Eyes, the allaying household terrors of Mrs. B. Lackberry Jam and choice of colors and styles for Giddy Girl, leave them willingly, aye, even joyously to lament the glory of the departed—the watermelon.

As a boy who, when the moon was darkest, could tell to a scientific certainty, whether or not, the watermelon was full ripe, and here was just one thing made for boys that "ma" couldn't cook into something and make a fellow eat it when he wanted something else awful bad; as man we confess to a secret delight in this most luscious of vegetables because of its apparent power to resist the skill of the most clever chef to make it up into something else. Verily, was it a joy to the hotel lifer that there was one thing left that couldn't be spoiled in the cooking, for the mere simple reason it couldn't be cooked at all.

But as the years slip by so our sorrows and our joys along and away on their crests and so is going and has, in fact, gone the watermelon.

It is all owing to those pestiferous experts over Washington way. They have kept projecting around until they have found a way to perpetrate the watermelon beyond its natural reign and thus robbed it of its glory, which lay altogether in the brevity of its career. In other words they have discovered methods to jelly it and preserve it and jam it, though we would like to spell that last process with a different first letter. But what do you think is the chief use they now propose to put it to? Why, molasses. Think of that, the food of the gods converted into plain, plebeian molasses, cheaper and more saccharine than the New Orleans variety. That sure coats your palate, but that is just what.

How is it done? Just take off the rind and take out the seeds and crush the pulp with a potato masher, or if you have a cider press you can put the whole of the melons, broken in part, and run it through that. Five-sixths of the red of the melon, and it is best to use only the pulp, will thus turn to water. The fluid is put on and boiled to a temperature of 220 degrees, or if that can not be measured, until on cooling it becomes about as thick as maple syrup. The finished product is used for molasses and does exceptionally well in flavoring ginger cakes and ices.

DOTH PROTEST TOO MUCH.

For the past four days our good young Governor has been issuing a proclamation every odd hour declaring he had anything to do with encouraging a referendum on the McDermott law, which changes the method of appointing liquor license commissioners. As a mere incident, of course, the large part of his multitudinous harangues are given to denouncing the traducees, who coupled his name with the unholy undertaking.

May he be had nothing to do with the referendum, but the more vehemently he denies he did the more is suspicion aroused that he at least winked at it. As a matter of fact so strongly does the evidence point to the fact that close to the shrine of his official household were connected with it, that ignorance on his part is a blunder and in statesmanship blunder is worse than crime.

That political repeal of the new statute would be assumed to the advantage of his administration is apparent enough, since if the McDermott law stands the selection will go to certain county officials and this would enable the Democrats to control a large part of them, if not actually a majority, while if the referendum should carry our good young Governor would have personal control over the whole kit and parcel. It is not denied, after the furious chase which he has personally set afoot for the state jobs, both big and little, this would be an entirely acceptable situation to him.

Out in Illinois three companies of militia are guarding a jail, in which a negro is confined, to keep him from being lynched and according to veracious accounts, this very man's town, a negro highwayman's life was saved from an infuriated gathering of citizens Saturday night, by the opportune arrival of the police. All wrong, of course, but it shows human nature, at least the white part of it, is about the same wherever the clouds roll.

Having appointed another Ada man or two on the civil service board our good young Governor can now be expected to get such rulings and orders as may be desired to shake the rabble of Democratic office-holders loose from their jobs and place only the appointed in their stead.

And so summer is gone and there was no summer. But come to think of it summer is not officially over until September 21st. Brethren, let us live and hope. There is nothing in this living to being the oldest inhabitant and telling about the year there was no summer. What we want always is reasonable weather, except when we get it and then we want something else and don't get that.

THE "GOOD OLD DAYS" HAVE COME BACK.

Our good young Governor has ordered an investigation to learn if any members of his administration were connected with the work of securing a referendum on the McDermott license bill. Fake, hosh, rot. The good young Governor knows who of his own household stirred up the mess and he knows more, who winked at 'em.

One Berlin paper speaks of President Wilson in laudatory terms and rejoices that neither Bryan nor Roosevelt is now president. Why both, is hard to understand, but after awhile more German papers will understand Wilson better and will have praise for him too.

One of the things no man can understand is why a deep wide ditch should be left yawning and gaping for victims at the second most dangerous point in the county, the west end of the underground crossing between Portsmouth and Lucasville.

Some one wants to know what is a chauntanka. It is no longer what it was and it will no longer be what it is. Well, we guess the best answer is, a chauntanka is pretty much what the community will have, measured by its willingness to pay for it.

We make a guess on the appointment of Elmer Ottino to a Columbus job, that our good young Governor hasn't yet learned who is who here in Scioto county.

Reading the news in this faithful recorder of events, one finds there are a good many pinched by the police, but still few as compared with those who are pinched by poverty.

New York, Sept. 2.—The white aproned ladies who fetch "Ham and German Fried and a Cup of Java," are to become unionized in Gotham. Mrs. Belle Donner, who is the queen of the food-toters, has issued a thunderous appeal for the waitresses to unionize.

She believes it is high time that they upheld their profession. These ladies are obliged to carry bread pudding and stewed aprons to undersized male shrimps who wear wrist watches, sport shirts and Charlie Chaplin mustaches.

Those who know say they should have a minimum wage scale of $7 a day—with two hours for lunch. In some of the white-clothed cafeterias the waitresses

"The executive office" has issued request to the owners of ponds to open drains for them. What is needed is to send out a gang of police with pick and shovel.

August played us false all through her existence, but the last and then she made sad with her going because she was all softness and sunshine.

Woman's stylishness consists, these days, in what she does not wear instead of what she does. Do you get that? If not, wait until winter comes and may be you will get an idea then.

Judging from the large number of dukes, lords and nobles slain in the war the price of titles to American girls is going to rise higher.

The other evening he went all "beered" up as the chorus girls say, but he was alone. At the foot of the stairs he called out to his wife: "Don't shoot! I'm not con-voyed."

The Friends of Peace sent a 300 word telegram to President Wilson the other day informing him that Congress, and not he, has the power to declare war. Such telegrams, says Frank O'Brien sympathizingly, do no harm, and they help the Western Union to put up those nice tall office buildings.

Gertrude Hoffman, the dancer, has issued a bitter complaint to a world that is more or less interested in every little thing she does. In a dance in the vaudeville play "Samurai," Miss Hoffman, take it from the press agent—has to dye her skin brown and the war has made it impossible to get the chemical she needs to remove the stain.

Some one has flippantly suggested that maybe the city would lend her the sand blast it uses to clean its public structures.

Down at the Players Club an English actor was bidding his friends good bye preparatory to sailing for home next week. "If you are going abroad," one friend told him, "you may be interested in that remarkable sale of steam-trunks at Blank's on Fifth Avenue."

"Well, I don't know," was the halting reply. "I believe I will be more interested just now in a special sale of prayer books."

Jay Barnes, of the Morocco offices, has faced quite a puzzling problem lately. He was rushing into the Astor the other day for a cradle to eat when in going through the revolving door he found himself in the same section with a lady. In the excitement he forgot to remove his hat and he wonders now if he was impossible.

A moving picture house was thrown open to the public the other night and a lot of the first nighters—including Diamond Jim—came in low-necked clothes and limousines. The new house is at Seventy-Seventh street and Broadway and is no different from any of the others, but it had a good press agent and made a regular "first night" affair out of it. It is said that some didn't know it was a picture house.

MAKE THE ROADS BETTER

BY JESSE TAYLOR

Editor of "Better Roads and Streets"

The new road law known as the "Cass Bill" will take effect Monday, September 6, 1915, and in it will be found many new and helpful provisions.

While there may be a few variations in the value of farm lands, there is an unquestioned fact, that as a general rule, the higher values are largely due to superior public roads.

The old saying, "a stitch in time saves nine" never applied more appropriately to a pair of pants than it does to the maintenance of a wagon road.

The transportation question will never be solved as long as it costs as much to carry a ton of agricultural products to the railroad station as it does to carry it four hundred miles over a railroad.

Mud knows neither the farmer, the rural mail carrier, nor the automobile owner. Mud may have a place in nature but we have no use for it in the middle of the road.

Improved roads are the earmarks of civilization, the evidence of intelligent, education and refinement, but bad roads are the sign of backwardness, indolence, or a careless citizenship.

Are you in favor of improved roads? If not, you don't belong in Ohio.

The state highway improvement fund produced by the state levy of three-tenths of one mill shall be applied to the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of inter-county and main market roads—seventy-five per cent to inter-county highways and twenty-five per cent to main market roads.

The funds derived from the registration of automobiles shall be equally divided and one-half shall be applied, and used, in the maintenance and repair of inter-county highways and one-half to the maintenance and repair of main market roads, and from the pair appropriated for use on main market roads the state highway commissioner is authorized to establish a system of maintenance to be organized in such manner as the state highway commissioner may provide.

The state highway commission, maintenance and repair of the required standard, all inter-county highways, main market roads and bridges and culverts constructed by the State, or taken over by the State after being constructed.

The construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of main market roads established by law, may begin at any point and shall be constructed with plans, details and specifications adopted by the chief highway engineer, with the approval of the state highway commissioner.

County commissioners, township trustees and village councils, shall have the same power and authority to co-operate in the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of main market roads as is granted to them in the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of inter-county highways.

The annual state road levy of three-tenths of one mill is in addition to all other levies for any purpose or purposes, and shall not be constructed as limited, restricted or decreased in amount or otherwise by any existing law.

The state highway commissioner may extend a proposed road into or through a village when the consent of the council of said village has first been obtained.

The Curdling of La Rue

Mrs. La Rue Reading went to Monongah Springs Sunday to visit several days with friends near here. La Rue stayed at home to feed the chickens and milk the cow. He says he can milk all right, but doesn't know what to do with it. At the time of going to press every vessel in the house is full of milk and he has stopped up the holes in the cook stove and is filling it with the surplus.—Lowry City (Mo.) Independent.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Sept. 2.—War shares and similar specialties were again the objects of active speculation at the opening of today's market, with gains of 2 to over five points.

General motors was the conspicuous feature, adding 7 1/2 points to yesterday's gain of 2 1/2, with a new high record of 248.

Crucible steel advanced materially, likewise other industrial and equipments. United States Steel on a sale of 2,500 shares opened at a medium of 76 1/4, 3/8 over the close.

New York Central was the most active railway issue, its initial quotation of 93 1/4 representing a gain of a point, but it soon receded to below 92 on a heavy offering. Reactions of 1 to 6 points followed the early rise.

Prices made irregular recoveries before the end of the first hour, readjustment of foreign exchange conditions being an influential factor. Trading in that period was on a very extensive scale, but specialties again supplied more than a proportionate share. Prominent railways were distinctly heavy, every advance being met by selling orders which were believed to be for foreign account.

Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, St. Paul and New York Central reflected pressure of this character. Steel also moved feverishly, yielding from time to time as offerings increased. Trading slackened perceptibly before noon. Bonds were heavy with a marked increase of foreign liquidation.

Specialties notably Crucible Steel and New York Air Brake extended their gains in the last hour but they all broke badly at the end. Representative shares were quite reactionary. The closing was heavy.

Foreign liquidation of the International list at recessions of 1 to 2 points and further manipulation of war shares were the features of today's dealing.

heavier than the demand and after September had opened unchanged to 1/2 lower at 71 1/2; and December 3/4 to 1/2 to 1/4 lower at 60 1/4 to 1/2, both options eased off a little further.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Good demand and slight offerings sent oats up at the start but profit taking sales soon caused a slight decline.

Provisions were irregular, ranging at the opening from 7 1/4 lower to 5 higher. Liquidation sent September pork off 7 1/2, but there was a good demand for October, and prices rose 5c. Good call for lard and ribs sent them up from 2 1/2 to 5c.

Later the market became easy on selling by scattered longs. On the break packers bought pork and this brought a small rally. The close was irregular 2 1/2 higher to 1 1/4 lower.

The market later advanced on the better tone in sterling exchange and on good buying by houses with seaboard connections. Strength in cash premiums also helped the upward trend as did a forecast for unsettled weather. The close was easy at a net advance of 3/4 and 1/4 to 1c, with Sept. at 97 1/4 and Dec. at 94 1/4 and 1/2.

September corn temporarily advanced more than a cent on buying by cash houses but dropped on exporters' report that the crop would be two billion, nine hundred and eighty-six million bushels. The market closed irregular 3/4 and 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher with Sept. at 73 1/4 and December at 60 1/4.

DOCTOR'S WIFE IS JAILED

and a modish straw hat and spreading brim of which half hid her features.

Mrs. Mohr greeted the officers and her counsel with smiles and when told that she was to be removed to Warren rose quickly from her seat and said:

"I am ready."

The police have entertained two possible motives—jealousy on the part of Mrs. Mohr toward Miss Emily G. Burger, the doctor's secretary, who was his companion on the ride that ended in his death; an alleged desire by the wife to obtain possession of her husband's considerable estate. A few hours after her husband expired Mrs. Mohr made application in the municipal court for her appointment as custodian for his property. This was granted.

During the morning Mrs. Mohr and the three negroes were taken to Warren, the county seat of Bristol county, and arraigned before Judge Frank Hammell. The woman was charged with inciting to murder. Before the party left the police made public a letter addressed to George Rooke, a brother in law of Miss Burger and bearing the signature of Mrs. Mohr. Rooke said he had received the letter a short time ago. The communication follows:

"Dear Mr. Rooke: Just a line to ask you to tell your sister if she dares to go into my Newport home she will never come out alive. I am giving her fair warning no matter what the outcome may be. I will see it through. I was told about her buying linen at Gladdings (a Providence department store) for Dr. Mohr. I do hope you try and straight-

Divine Urges More Support For Ministerial Candidates

Waits Station Baptist church was crowded Wednesday evening at the second session of the 1915 annual meeting of the Portsmouth Baptist Association. Meetings will be held Thursday evening and Friday, morning, afternoon and evening. By Thursday morning ten ministers had arrived while several more were expected present for the Thursday evening and Friday sessions. Forty delegates had registered up to Thursday noon. About seventy-five ministers and delegates are expected to attend the sessions.

Rev. J. M. Davis, D. D., of Rio Grande, Ohio, arrived Thursday morning but will have to return Thursday night on account of illness in his home.

The Wednesday evening session opened at 7:15 with Rev. Floyd

Barrett of Rio Grande, Ohio, in charge of the devotional services. Songs and music were followed by a very interesting and profitable sermon by Rev. D. A. Cushman of Milfordville, Ohio. Rev. S. W. Maxwell of Waverly, was to have opened the services but failed to arrive in time.

Thursday morning at 9:30 the third session of the meeting opened with Rev. Mr. Miller of the Ohio Baptist Colportage, leading devotional services.

Rev. W. A. Holmes, of Rio Grande, Ohio, who is at the head of the Baptist school work in Ohio, and who is well known to ministers of this city, made a very interesting address on "The Bible School A Training School For Service."

Rev. Pearl Hughes of Lorain Street Baptist church, who was to have made a talk on "More Preachers Needed," was not present and Rev. Freeman W. Chase, formerly pastor of Hutchins Street Baptist church, filled his place. Rev. Chase's subject was "How To Supply Need of More Preachers." In explaining the ways of supplying the need Rev. Chase laid stress on three points, prayers of the church, financial assistance of the church, and more encouragement to ministerial candidates by the ministry.

The Thursday afternoon session was opened by Rev. R. Musgrave of Stockdale, Ohio. Rev. J. M. Davis delivered a splendid sermon on "The Spirit of Man is the Candle of the Lord."

en this matter out and I know you cannot stop her going out to dinner with him but she will have a sad ending if she keeps against me. My home is being watched and if I should leave Newport this summer my home will be watched just the same and should I get word I shall come right on. The world is with me in my sorrow. I am heart-broken.

"Respectfully,"
"ELIZABETH MOHR."

The confession of Brown which was taken down by the police reads:

"I, Cecil Victor Brown, 27 years old, of 39 Hammond street, Boston, Mass., saw Elizabeth T. Mohr, Monday night between 8 and 9 p. m., August 30, 1915. She sent for me and told me to prepare to kill Dr. Mohr because she could not stand this any longer."

"I do not want to do it," she said. "There is something in it for you."

"I will put you in the garage business. Do not be afraid as I stand in with all of the detectives and chief down in Newport and the judges in Providence."

"She said if we get in any trouble she will spend her last dollar to get us out of it and be sure and tell George to come over so she could have a talk with him. After nine days she would have everything settled, that is her part of the estate. She also said she did not know if his other two children belonging to his first wife would come in for their share and she would pay me $2,000, and also pay George $2,000 and Henry $1,000, and if she had enough left she would give me $500 more. She said:

"There is no excuse of being scared. Everything will blow over. This is something that has got to be done."

"She made me ride to Boston on the train leaving Providence at 7:40 p. m. to purchase a revolver in a pawn shop on Beach street, about three months ago, which I paid $6 for—a .38 caliber. Mrs. Mohr said to get a good one. If we did not kill him she was going to do it herself. She paid $100 for the motorcycle I own in May this year."

Providence, R. I., Sept. 2—Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr, wife of the physician who was fatally shot while on an automobile trip from this city to Newport on Tuesday night, was arrested today after three negroes had signed a written confession saying that Mrs. Mohr had hired them to kill the doctor.

The negroes are charged with murder. They are George W. Healis, the chauffeur, who was driving Dr. Mohr's car at the time of the shooting; Cecil V. Brown, formerly employed as a hostler by Dr. Mohr, and Henry Stellman, half-brother of Brown. No specific charge has been brought against Mrs. Mohr, who vehemently denies the accusation, which she characterized as absurd. Healis has been detained by the police since the shooting, as his account of the affair conflicted with that given by Miss Emily G. Burger, the doctor's assistant, who was in the automobile and who also was wounded.

Brown was taken into custody last night after Healis had told the police that he and the hostler had plotted to rob Dr. Mohr on the night of the shooting. The authorities did not believe the stories of the negroes and Brown was subjected to a searching examination, during which, the police say, he broke down and admitted that he was concerned in the shooting, and that Mrs. Mohr had offered him $2,000 to kill her husband.

Healis and Stellman, questioned separately, corroborated Brown's story and the arrest of Mrs. Mohr followed.

Brown at first denied that he had any connection with the affair. He said he passed over the Narragansett road, where the shooting occurred, on a motorcycle, explaining that he was on his way to visit a friend at Riverside. Detectives who went to Riverside to investigate his story, returned with Spellman in custody. Spellman said that there was a plot against Dr. Mohr, and when Brown heard of Spellman's declaration, he made a detailed confession.

According to Brown's story, as given out by the police, Mrs. Mohr proposed several weeks ago that he kill Dr. Mohr, promising to pay him $5,000 nine days after the killing was accomplished. He said he asked Spellman to help him out, and brought his half-brother up to talk the matter over with Mrs. Mohr. Healis was present at this interview, by request of Mrs. Mohr. Brown said, Spellman was to receive $1,000 and Brown and Healis $2,000 each. The arrangements for the shooting were carried out in detail, according to the confession.

At a designated spot of the Narragansett road Healis stalled the engine of the automobile, and Brown and Spellman, who had approached on motorcycles, crept through the bushes and fired at the occupants of the car. Brown said he shot Dr. Mohr and Spellman wounded Miss Burger. After the shooting Brown and Spellman went back to the motorcycles. They threw the revolvers into a brook near the Rhode Island County Jail.

Brown declared that Mrs. Mohr told him to be sure to kill the doctor, and to kill Miss Burger if he could. His instructions, he said, were to shoot anybody in the automobile, whether it was Miss Burger or Florence Crosby, a maid employed in Dr. Mohr's office.

After Spellman and Healis had corroborated Brown's story, two police detectives went to Mrs. Mohr's house and brought her to police headquarters, where later she was formally placed under arrest. She made a vigorous denial of the negroes' charges and said that their confession was "absurd." Immediately after her arrest she sent for her attorney, Arthur Cushing. No specific charge was preferred against her, as the murder was committed in Bristol county, which is out of the jurisdiction of the Providence county courts.

It was stated that she would be arraigned on a charge of inciting to murder. The charge against Brown will be the murder of Dr. Mohr; that against Healis will be an accessory to murder before and after the fact, and Spellman will be charged with assault with intent to murder Miss Burger.

All of the negroes under arrest said that Mrs. Mohr told them that she was jealous of Dr. Mohr, and also was desirous of getting possession of his estate, which she believed would be denied her if she obtained a divorce. They said she explained to them that the payment of the $5,000 would be made nine days after the commission of the crime, as by that time the entire estate would belong to her.

An Easy Way To Get Fat And Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on dragging their stomachs or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "dash creams"; or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere which seemingly remedies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This modern treatment is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aids through regenerative, reconstructive powers to coat the stomach and intestines in liberally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to the starved, broken-down cells and tissues of your body. You can readily picture what result this amazing transformation should produce as with increased weight the checks fill out, hollows about neck, shoulders and bust disappear and from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh is added to the body. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Fisher & Streich, and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

Mr. Andrew Kuhns, 1113 Fifth lay street, Portsmouth, is well known to a great number of people in this city. Mr. Kuhns is a man of the highest honesty and integrity, and the following statement from him in regard to Tanlac will be of interest to fellow sufferers:

"After it had been recommended to me I got a bottle of this Tanlac principally for a catarrhal trouble and rheumatism, and you can say for me through the columns of The Times that I am highly gratified with results. My rheumatic pains seemed to hit me mostly in my ankles. This medicine has also helped my nerves I notice. About one dose is left in this first bottle, so I will be down to get another. My idea is to get fixed up before the bad weather sets in."

Dear Miss Wise.—Please give me the recipe for making two gallons of red tomato catsup to put up in bottles.
E. W. R.

One-half bushel tomatoes cooked and strained, boil down to 8 pints, then add 3 tablespoons salt, 3-4 tablespoons black pepper, 2-3 tablespoons allspice, 1-2 of cloves, 1-2 tablespoons cinnamon and one pint of vinegar. If you will double this recipe you will have two gallons of catsup.

Dear Miss Wise.—How can I set the color in a red rubber bathing cap?
DAISY.

It can't be did, Daisy. There is no way to set the color in a rubber article except by processes used in the manufacture of same. You could probably soak the extra dry out of the cap, but there would be danger of fading it and making it streaked.

Dear Miss Wise.—Please tell me how to clean a fine bronze ornament without washing.

Brush out the dust, then apply a little sweet oil, polish with a soft cloth and then with a clean chamois.

Miss Wise.—Please give me the recipe for fried oysters.

Drain and wipe the oysters dry, then roll in cracker or bread crumbs seasoned with salt and pepper, dip in egg beaten up with one tablespoon milk and roll again in crumbs. Fry quickly in hot fat or butter, drain on paper as fast as taken up. Serve hot garnished with slices of lemon.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am a young married woman, and although my husband is very good to me, I am not content. He is not the kind of looking man I always wanted, but I married him for a home, and because my father made me. My husband worries about my attitude toward him, but I am very unhappy and dis-

SOCIETY

A wedding of beautiful appointments, which will be of interest to many in Portsmouth, is that of Miss Edith Clarissa Jones, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Jones, of Omega, and Mr. Anthony Porter Pope, employed at The Hills Hardware Company, which took place Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock at the beautiful home of the bride's parents in Omega. The spacious rooms were exquisitely decorated in yellow and white, golden-rod and black-eyed Susans were profusely used in the decorations. The attendants were Miss Whanita DeLong, of Circleville, a room-mate of the bride at the O. W. U., Delaware, and Mr. Carl Appel, of Portsmouth.

The ceremony was said by Rev. Mr. Lafferty, of the Methodist Episcopal church, in the presence of the immediate family and a few intimate friends. The music was rendered by Miss Mary Weston, of Lancaster, a school-mate of the bride at the O. W. U. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of white crepe de chine, built over white silk, the bodice handsomely trimmed, and the filmy veil of tulle fell in graceful folds to the hem of her long-trained skirt. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies. Her maid wore a yellow and white flowered marquisette over white silk and carried an armful of Aaron Ward roses. The ceremony was followed by an elegant four-course dinner served in the beautifully adorned dining-room, where the colors were also yellow and white. The ice cream was frozen in the shape of flowers and the menu was carried out in the yellow and white colors. At the bride's table covers were laid for the bride and groom and their attendants, Miss DeLong and Mr. Carl Appel, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Appel, of Portsmouth, Mrs. Stanley Bisque, of Covington, Ky., sister of the groom, Miss Mary Weston, of Lancaster, and Miss Laura Anderson, of Madisonville, O. W. U. schoolmates of the bride. The bride divided her bouquet in three parts, after which she tossed it, and it was caught by Miss Laura Anderson, who found a ring secreted in it; Miss DeLong caught another part, in which a thimble was secreted, and Miss Faith Chaffin the third part, which held the coin. These articles are usually secreted in the bride's cake. Pieces of the bride's cake wrapped in white tissue paper and tied in yellow ribbon were presented to the guests as souvenirs of the occasion. The places were marked with beautiful hand-painted cards in basket shapes, done in gold and white, and presented to the bride by one of her relatives. The happy couple took their departure in an automobile for Chillicothe, where they took the train for Cincinnati and will go to Covington to visit the groom's relatives for one week, after which they will come to Portsmouth to make their home in a cozy flat on West Sixth street. The bride's traveling suit was blue, with hat and gloves to match. The bride is a highly cultured and attractive young woman, a graduate of the O. W. U. at Delaware, and for the past three years has been teacher in Domestic Science in the schools at Lancaster. Mr. Pope is a splendid young man, a valued employee of the Hills Hardware Company, by whom he is held in the highest esteem. Others present were Messrs. and Mesdames T. C. Jones, A. J. Jones, S. W. ### True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humblest apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable castor' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the castor oil of medicinal origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'santal tablets'—these tablets—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Santal tablets, which may be procured from any druggist, not only will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, blotches, sallow skin, usually due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How small and how easy to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. It is more people only know it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and so easily obtained. It is a formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form and is now being sold under the name of 'santal tablets'. These tablets are not only the most effective remedy for constipation and sallow skin, but they also cure the most difficult of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "santal tablets" as a reliable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It is now being sold in all the drug stores, and is being used by thousands of people who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Santal tablets, aside from their effect on the bowels, also have a beneficial effect on the liver and the entire system. They are a natural functioning—instead of an unnatural forcing—remedy. Also, instead of injuring the mucous lining of the bowels, they soothe and soothe the lining. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they are so easily obtained, and so easily used, that they are preferred on all accounts to the violent acting purgatives. Their laxative effect is a natural result of the popularity of santal tablets. One need procure only a small box, and take one tablet upon retiring, to see the difference. The ideal remedy for constipation, sallow skin, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found—Druggists Review.

COUNCIL PLANS TO RESTORE FLOOD WALL AT "POINT"

Recommendations of the Board of Trade and Retail Merchants' Association relative to restoring the flood wall at the Scioto Point were promptly acted upon by City Council, Wednesday night, when it went on record as declaring for the immediate letting of a contract as soon as funds were available and making it a part of the general flood wall extension plan.

The initiative in the movement to restore the Point with all possible haste was assumed by Frank Schmank, councilman from the First Ward. He urged that there not be the slightest delay, saying that it was important to the entire city that the gap at the extreme west end of the city be closed for the time of the year was approaching when there is danger of high water. He felt the restoration of the flood wall there ought to go with the main wall extension or ahead of it and upon his motion it was declared the sense of council that a contract be awarded at the earliest possible moment.

Discussions developed the fact that by eliminating the "wing wall" on Officers street from the Ridge to near Third street, the engineer's estimate of which was $5500 and the $4,000 left in the $70,000 flood wall bond issue over the estimate for the main wall addition, there will be practically enough money on hands with which to restore the Point, the estimated cost of which is $10,000.

Recommended By Board of Control

It was pointed out that such is the recommendation of the Board of Control, Jackson street property owners preferring to take their chances on another freshet for another year, rather than have that "wing wall" built.

The request of Chairman Geo. Gulker, of the street committee, for further time on the other proposals of the above civic bodies recommending the purchase of three houses on the north side of Second street, west of Massie to provide a better approach to the new county bridge, was granted.

Council upon the recommendation of Chairman Charles W. Wilson, of the police and fire committee, decided to hold an informal meeting, some time next week, to consider the "jitney" bus ordinance.

Mr. Wilson meanwhile will confer with City Solicitor Stanley McCall on the merits or legality of the measures the promoters of the "jitney" ordinance are asking. He felt it was a matter in which the entire membership of council was interested.

Nay! Nay! Pauline! Say City Dads

Council refused to be drawn into the latest plan of the "jitney" people to force the street railway company to make the street repairs ordered by the public service department some time ago, contending that such was a matter entirely up to that department.

The subject was brought up when Director William Gergens presented the letter that had been addressed to him by Attorneys Blair and Kumble, counsel for the "jitney" people. Mr. Gergens said that the street railway company had done some repaving since he served a notice upon it and that it was its purpose to improve one street every year, expecting to take up Ninth or Eleventh street and relay them next year. The company felt it was hard pressed with the extensive work it has been doing this summer, namely the laying of new tracks on Gallia street, at East Portsmouth and New Boston and the building of the traction line to Hanging Rock.

Claim Franchise Can Be Revoked

It is understood the "jitney" people are contending that unless the street railway company obeys orders to repair tracks and streets its franchise can be revoked.

Rules were suspended and an ordinance passed to proceed with the improvement of Mabert Road from Gallia street to the north corporation line. It was announced that service had been completed on all property owners and no damage claims presented.

A communication from Armstrong Place property owners asking for a sewer of sufficient depth to drain their cellars caused a lively discussion. It developed that the petition was signed by the property owners of only the east side and not all of them. City Engineer Wilhelm thought the sewer might be figured as a future sanitary sewer, once the city was permitted to use Lawson Run as a sewer and believed it a good scheme to permit its use for storm and cellar drainage until that time. He said the plan was to assess the cost of the sewer against the properties and consider it as a part of the whole improvement plan. He favored taking care of Linden avenue in a similar manner although there was no desire among property owners there to have their cellars drained. Some of the members were of the opinion that this was a private matter if all property owners on one side were not benefited the same as those on the other side but Solicitor McCall held that the city could assess the one side so benefitted. President W. E. Cook warned that the people of that section were going to oppose street paving unless proper drainage was first provided. It was finally decided a matter of sufficient importance to warrant investigation and was referred to the street committee for a report.

Sunnyside To Get New Sewer

Other ordinances passed by city council under a suspension of the rules were the following: Approving plans, specifications and estimates for a sanitary sewer in Sunnyside addition at a cost of $5,350.

Approving plans and estimates for a sanitary sewer in Walnut street extending from Plum to Norfolk street, $395; approving plans and estimates for the Tremper sanitary sewer east of Findlay street and extending from Thirteenth to Sixteenth street, $943.75; approving plans and estimates for a sanitary sewer in the first alley south of Gallia street and east from Beech street to Norfolk street, $215; approving plans and estimates for a combination storm and sanitary sewer in the alley abutting on the B. & O. S. W. railroad and extending 380 feet east from Norfolk street, $400.

Rejection of Flood Bonds Reported

Clerk George Gableman reported the rejection of the $70,000 flood wall bonds by the State Industrial Commission and the Sinking Fund trustees and the fixing of October 5 as the date of the sale of the bonds and the acceptance by the Sinking Fund trustees of the $2500 (city's proportion) Kendall avenue, Linden avenue and Armstrong Place bonds and the $15,000 sewer bonds.

Upon the recommendation of Chairman John Moeller council authorized the service department to install eight additional street lights at the following corners:

Tenth and Scott streets; Eighth street and Timmonds avenue; Moulton Place; Kendall avenue and Gallia street; Twentieth and High streets; Kinney Lane near Greenlawn cemetery entrance; Chestnut and Walnut streets; North Waller and Twenty-second streets. He recommended that the light for Chestnut and Walnut street be temporarily placed at the end of Gallia pike until the work there is completed, then moved back to its designated place.

Property Owners Want New Sewer

A petition from property owners for a combination storm and sanitary sewer between Baird and Franklin avenues, from Seventeenth to Twenty-first street was referred to the solicitor and engineer for an estimate.

Council sat down upon a proposal of E. J. Zeigler to allow him to build his own sanitary sewer at Second and Madison streets and by paying the city $50 permit him to tap all of his buildings into it. Council took the position that the city had constructed all sewers in the past and should continue to do so. It expressed a willingness to build the sewer there to relieve unsanitary conditions, but he should pay the regular tapping fees. It was argued that to tap all his buildings into the sewer would be equivalent to $350.

Mr. Schmank felt that stress should be laid by council on the importance of compelling all property owners to tap into sanitary sewers or have the city put in taps and charge the cost against the properties.

The call for "Introduction of Ordinances" found Chairman Westphal of the ordinance committee peacefully snoozing in his seat and a ripple of laughter followed into which the popular young North End solon heartily joined, he protesting "They've taken my job from me." Every ordinance presented had found its way into the proceedings through other channels and so Mr. Westphal had nothing new to offer.

The monthly schedule amounting to $281.99 was allowed.

COMPLAIN ABOUT WOMEN WHO PRAY TOO LOUD; ALSO OBJECT TO BIRD

Mrs. Ed L. Allen, of 2016 Seventh street, complains that the police are not doing anything towards relieving unbearable conditions in her neighborhood.

The police declare that Mrs. Allen complains about one thing or another frequently and that her husband even complained a few nights ago that a bird in a tree near his home was annoying him. Mrs. Allen when asked about this by the Times, Thursday, said that complaint referred to sparrows with which the neighborhood was over-run but said that was some time ago.

Mrs. Allen's chief complaint is directed against a neighbor who with girls rooming at her home, have according to Mrs. Allen have adopted the practice of praying morning, noon and night. "They don't pray like other people but yell and pound also," said she. Mrs. Allen said that they belong to the "Holy Roller" church.

AND THEN THEY LAUGHED

"I understand that John Bunney has joined the Barnum circus," said William "Button" Scott, while at the Hammer Club headquarters Wednesday without batting an eye or displaying the faintest trace of a smile.

"Why John Bunney is dead," President Henry J. Fairre quickly replied.

"Well, so is Barnum," Mr. Scott came back, and everybody enjoyed a good laugh at the expense of Mr. Fairre, who enjoyed it as much as anybody.

CAPTURES LIVE TARANTULA

Jacob Hoerr, a Chillicothe street fruit dealer, captured a live tarantula from out of a bunch of bananas Wednesday. The poisonous critter was presented to Agent W. K. Runk, of the Wells-Fargo Express company.

"BILL" BAILEY WON'T YOU PLEASE COME HOME?

The police vainly scoured the city Wednesday night for one William Bailey, whom Ed Bricker accused of entering his house on Mill street and stealing his suit case and clothes. Bricker said Bailey formerly boarded at his home. On Wednesday evening he appeared at his home while all of the family were absent, save a little girl, to whom he gave a lime with which to go to a grocery and make a purchase, and during her absence he slipped into the house.

Dog Attacks Girl, Rumpus Follows

Walter Biles and John Martin, two East End young men, were locked up by the police Wednesday night on complaint of K. G. Payne. Mr. Payne said that he and family were walking along the streets, when a dog that Biles was leading attacked his little girl. When he kicked at the dog the two young men began vilifying and threatening him, and their language was particularly shocking to the women of the party, he said. The two will be given a hearing in police court Friday morning. Mr. Payne promising to appear against them.

SALOONIST IS BANKRUPT

The Cincinnati Enquirer Wednesday said:

"R. M. Warnock, a former saloonist of Ashland, Ky., now employed as a laborer at North Keokuk, Lawrence county, Ohio, yesterday filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court, scheduling liabilities at $2,458.46 and assets at $444, all of which he claims exempt. The petitioner says that he was in business on Greenup street, in Ashland, and that he turned over all of his stock and fixtures to the West Virginia Brewing Company under a trust deed given to secure a claim for $690. His unsecured indebtedness is listed at $1,598.46 and among his larger creditors are Herman Bros., Louisville, $311; Brookwood Distilling Company, Cincinnati, $100; the Mayer Bros. Company, Cincinnati, $177; I. Levi & Co., Cincinnati, $102; and Goldman, Beckner & Co., Cincinnati, $170."

STARTED A RUMPUS

Fred, better known as "Cush" Taylor, was locked up by Officer Frank Emmett for creating a disturbance at the Washington Hotel bar Wednesday night.

Taylor, according to Gus Hoerr, one of the proprietors, came into the cafe with a crippled penicillin vial and vilified everybody who refused to buy from him. He was released Thursday, with orders to appear for trial Friday morning.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Grandma's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur dardens so naturally that nobody can tell.

"Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and keeps falling hair. Yet are the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by using any drug store for 'Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound,' you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 60 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, so it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

Soaps are like people. They should be judged not by their looks, but by what they do—or don't do.

looks like ordinary soap, but actually it is a cake of stored-up cleansing energy. It does things no other soap does—loosens dirt, dissolves grease without the aid of hard rubbing.

Just as wonderful for all household cleaning.

TAKE SALTS FOR THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS

We Should Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat, Says Noted Authority on Kidney Disorders

Recommends a Spoonful of Jad Salts In Glass of Water Before Breakfast to Stimulate Kidneys and Eliminate the Uric Acid

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

PORTSMOUTH BEATS CHARLESTON; NEW FOOTBALL RULES

Spencer Men Win Second Game From The Senators, 9-7

THE Cobblers evened up with the Senators yesterday when they started in on Lefty Leyme in the first inning and pounded in so many runs that despite the repeated efforts of the Senators to tie it up they failed, the final count being 9 to 7, says the Charleston Gazette.

The game played by the locals, as on the previous day, was minus the class they used to hand out and were expected to show in addition quantities in this series, and the reason the visitors won was because they out-played the locals in every department and in addition to this were handed a little better pitching by Ferguson than the locals were given by either Leyme or Henderson. While they were running all around the paths in the early innings on clean hits and errors, the invaders' moundman was holding the locals to two hits and one run in the first six innings. Then he weakened and let the Beers tribe add six runs in the last three chukkers and half of these came in the ninth.

Chester Spencer's half-season pennant winners are playing a fair game again and giving the Senators some hard traveling and calls for some heavy clubbing. The only things that served to make the slugfest interesting for the 300 fans who had paid admission to the park were two home run drives, a great catch by Maffery in the sixth frame when the locals had the bases crowded, and the ninth inning when the Beersmen threatened to repeat their rally in the final inning of Tuesday's game.

The home runs were made by Gibson, the locals' first sacker, and Ferguson, the hurler for the visitors. Ferguson's came in the second inning, and Gibson hit his in the eighth. The former drove in Bush ahead of him but no one scored on the Huntington man's swat.

Leyme didn't even start right against the visitors when he passed Dillhoefer who came up for the opening round. Dills popped out to Mohrman and Sharman singled to left. Johnson hit to Troutman and Sharman was forced out. Mohrman, who took Troutman's throw at the keystone sack, tried for a double play but one of the wild leaves which made him famous resulted and Dillhoefer scored and Johnson trotted down to second. Caton singled to center and went to third when they tried to catch Johnson at the plate. McHenry scored Caton with a single and was caught at second when Spencer tapped to Mohrman.

Two more came for them in the second when Bush was passed and Ferguson hit his home run, and in the third they added the same amount. Here Leyton was safe on Henderson's failure to field his bunt. McHenry fanned but fielded his bunt. Caton scored on that hit and when Bush hit a long fly to Powell the manager counted.

The locals' first run came in the fourth when Powell was passed and Nutter doubled to right, the first hit off Ferguson, and Powell scored. Spencer greeted the men scored their last two runs in the seventh. Sharman tripled to right and Jacobus walked. Caton popped out and McHenry tapped to Curtis and Sharman scored. A wild

Josh Devore One Lucky Chap

Come to think about it Josh Devore is certainly one lucky chap. Not satisfied with having taken part in four world's series and being dubbed the "luckiest player in baseball" the diminutive outfielder is going to break into another "world's series."

That is just what he is going to do as Mayville has practically clinched the second half pennant. Apparently Josh just can't help but taking part in titular series. He seems to be inoculated with "world series fever" and long about this time of the year his temperature is about 110.

Local Warriors Are Interested In Gridiron Rules

AS the close of the Ohio State league baseball season draws near the local gridironers are starting preparations for placing teams in the field this fall. Not only are the amateur teams tossing the pigskin around, shoveling dirt and doing other labor in order that they may be in the pink of condition for the opening of the season, but all the local schools are already establishing their training camps in preparation for one of the best seasons in the history of the game.

It might be of interest to the football fans and likewise the players to know that several changes have been made in the rules during the summer.

The principal alterations in the playing rules for the season of 1915 are as follows:

Interferers will no longer be permitted to knock down the secondary defense after the whistle blows, nor will the defense either be permitted to run into a man after the whistle blows.

The presence of a field judge has been made obligatory, and the watch has been taken away from the line man and given to the field judge so as to make it possible for the line man to be more observant of all the matters coming within his province, like the above, and "beating" the starting signal.

No longer will throwing the ball out of bounds be substituted by teams for a kick, for a forward pass going out of bounds on the fly, whether it touches a man or not, is now ruled as an incomplete forward pass.

The kicking of substitutes in the last period has been stopped and no re-substitution will be allowed except at the beginning of the period.

The protection of the full-back has been somewhat altered. The rule has been divided into two parts—running into the full-back and "roughing" the full-back. Running into the full-back is penalized 15 yards, but "roughing" is penalized 15 yards and disqualification as well.

The committee recommended that the players be numbered.

At the same time they passed a vote of deprecating the pulling in of substitutes for the purpose of conveying information.

The penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct was changed to 15 yards, but the power was placed in the hands of the official to disqualify for flagrant conduct.

In snapping the ball back, the center may not hold it after he has made the motion, he must actually let the ball go. This prevents a play that had been practiced, consisting of the center holding the ball after he had apparently snapped it and someone coming around behind him and taking the ball from his hands.

The peculiar method of blocking and interfering, which has been increasing, wherein one throws their legs up in the air has been ruled out, for throwing the legs and striking with the lower leg a man above the knee will be penalized 15 yards. The rules already provide that striking a man in the same way below the knee is "tripping."

Another provision was made that unless the captain requests a lesser distance, the referee will always bring the ball out from the side line 15 yards.

If a second eligible man touches a forward pass after it has been first touched by an eligible player, it is simply an incomplete forward pass with the loss of a down.

Several corrective changes were made in the rules but not altering the method of play. There is also appended a set of approved rulings which clear up some disputed points.

You Can't Turn Around Without Meeting A Bill

Bills! Bills! Bills! There are bills everywhere according to reports made Wednesday night at the Bill meeting by the various committees named last week by Chairman Bill Burt. Bill Pressler reported that he had secured the names of 71 bills in the Selby plant, who will take part in the parade, which is to be made a feature of this year's Korn Carnival.

Bill Williams reported that there were 18 bills in the rank of Bailey Post G. A. R. and that they would be only too glad to take part in the pageant.

Bill Clayton reported that he had the names of 40 bills in the two Irving Drew factories and they would take part in the parade.

Bill Ferguson reported that he had already secured the names of 63 bills, who were engaged in the grocery and butcher business in this city and he had not made his complete rounds among them. Bill Abrahams, Bill Orlinton, Bill Pease, Bill Dragan reported great progress on their committees and the Bill parade is certainly going to be one grand success.

The feature committee was not ready to report. In fact it will have nothing to report. It will save all its features for the night of the parade.

Bill Atlas announced that he had secured the names of eight teen musicians whose names were Bill and they had signed a willingness to get in on the All Bill band. This statement brought forth much applause.

There was an interchange of ideas all round and the Bill meeting was quite enthusiastic. Another meeting will be held subject to the call of Chairman Bill Burt.

Big Order Placed

Philadelphia, Penn., Sept. 2.—New orders for war munitions aggregating $40,000,000 have been placed by the Baldwin Locomotive Works. With the booking of these orders the total of contracts received by the company from the allies reaches approximately $140,000,000.

For the first time since the company was reported to have received large orders for munitions from the warring nations of Europe officials of the company today admitted the facts. Samuel M. Vauclain, vice president, said that Baldwin's was working on several large orders for munitions the latest of which were for England.

Because Everybody Tries It, Everybody Likes It, It's Painless and Takes But a Moment To Apply

"Gets-It" is the wonder of the corn-patched world. Millions say so, because millions have used it. That's what makes it the biggest selling corn remedy on earth today.

"Gets-It" will surely get that corn or callus you've been trying for a long time to get rid of. Apply it in a second, and your stocking and shoe right over it—nothing to stick, nothing to hurt. You needn't fuss with thick bandages that make a package out of your foot. No knives, razors and scissors, no tape, no trouble. It's simply itself, sure, quick, painless. Try it! "Gets-It" is sold at all drug stores, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by The Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Deaf Mutes Are To Picnic Labor Day

The deaf of Portsmouth will hold a picnic at Millbrook park on Labor Day. Not only the deaf of this city, but also a large delegation of deaf from Huntington and Charleston, W. Va., and Ashland, Ky., will attend, and if the plans carry out, without doubt the gathering of deaf will be the largest ever attempted in Portsmouth, and it will be hard to beat for many years to come.

The committee on arrangements composed of Martin Maynard, chairman, Cecil Marple, Julius Maynard and William Cooper have been busy in perfecting the plans.

The following games have been decided upon and prizes will be awarded to the winners:

1. Baseball (Mixed vs. Singles)
2. Fifty-yard dash, backward (ladies).
3. Three-legged race (men).
4. Potato race (ladies).
5. Sack race (men).
6. Ball throwing (ladies).
7. Fungo hitting (men).

The singles have been in training for several days to trim the married in a baseball game. Their only trouble is the difficulty in signing Martin Taylor, who has been determined to be neutral, but an ultimatum has been handed him, demanding him to revoke his neutrality by 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Sensational news will leak out by that time.

Fate seems to be against the pull-up of the great pitching stunt of John Jarrel for the married, his last year the captain forgot to call for his pitching, which was to have brought fame to the married, and John Jarrel, the latter counseled himself with the resolution to bring it off this year. He advertised his intentions with the result that when the game between the singles and married was arranged, his friends grew expectant. Both Jarrel and the crowd are doomed to another disappointment, as not long ago Jarrel was operated upon for appendicitis, and his sagacity in pitching is gone, too, and the game is only about four days off.

By noon all will sit down to a bounteous chicken dinner that will be prepared by the ladies, and after that the games will start.

The committee will be glad to have those deaf children who still attend school come and join the crowd. If they are to be escorted by their parents, they will also be invited. As it will be impossible to identify all young deaf, their parents may approach the committee and introduce their children.

To all deaf of the world: Come, come all, and spend a pleasant time with us on Labor Day.

WM. COOPER,
Committee on Publicity.

OSCAR TO EXHIBIT PLANTS

ARM BROKEN

Jacob Johns, aged 80 years, a veteran retired drayman, suffered a compound fracture of his right elbow in an accident at his home, No. 930 Eighth street, Tuesday.

Mr. Johns was engaged in sweeping dirt from his porch roof when he noticed a loose shingle on the roof proper. He started to remove it when he lost his balance and fell with the shingle result. Drs. Fitch and Allard attended him and he is still suffering greatly from the shock.

Those familiar with the accident say Mr. Johns showed more pluck than would most people half his age.

Can All Around Real Safeguard

There is this one advantage that electric service has over every other commodity, except one, about the house—it will neither fall into disuse or become no longer serviceable.

The one exception is, of course, water. Water is indispensable. There is nothing to come that can possibly take its place and fill its uses. To all practical purposes electricity is its twin sister. Certainly, water is an absolute necessity, but we are not making comparison with it from that point, only its introduction to the house and its convenience and comfort, when once its service is installed. Then it is no more of a comfort and a convenience than electricity, indeed, we would say not as much. For as a matter of fact electricity is used oftener, longer and in more different places in the home. It is in every room and hall while it is neither desirable, nor practical to have water in all of these.

Water and electricity work hand in hand to wholesomeness and cleanliness by different direction—water washes dirt away, after it has once settled, electricity is an agency operating against the accumulation of dirt. Water promises health by making clean, electricity does the same thing by keeping clean. Ever notice the clean smell of a house, after the floors have been scrubbed and the woodwork washed? Well, go into a room where an electric fan is busily at work and you smell the same smell, the smell of pure air.

Here is the point we started out to make: That in no ordinary life time, nor for the period that the average house will stand, will electricity installment become a dead loss. Other lights and fuels in the processes and exhaustion of the years is bound to give out, or else become constantly advancing in cost. Electricity numerous and vast as are the fields and uses in which it is applied, is to all intents and purposes in its infancy, that is its development and possibilities are merely hinted at. This may sound like exaggeration by belittlement, but it is well within sober truth. We don't know what electricity is, all we do know is that it is the most mysterious of forces and that so far as finite understanding of it now goes, illimitable suggestions as to its application to practical uses present themselves.

The problem of it is not how to meet in successful competition some other force or utility in rivalry with it, but to keep pace with the potentiality it is continually opening before those who have immediately to do with furnishing it.

This permanency, this wonderful comfort, convenience and adaptability is what is a real safeguard to your home, keeps up its value and stops the heavy depreciation that ensues when a thing gets old and out of common demand. For the day is coming and coming rapidly when it will be the rule for the most modest home to have electric service and a house without it will be the exception and of small value compared to the amount originally put to its building.

So have your electric service put in right now, if you haven't already, and when you come to buy or rent be sure to see that the place has this service.

Yours to serve

REV. PETTINGILL CREATES A SPLENDID IMPRESSION

Rev. W. L. Pettingill of Wilmington, Del., took the First Baptist church congregation by storm Wednesday evening, when he conducted mid-week prayer services at the church. The church was filled and he first gave a splendid Bible reading taking as his subject "God's Ambition for His People."

After prayer services Rev. Pettingill taught the Union Bible class composed of teachers from the various Sunday schools in the city. About 100 teachers of the Bible were present.

"Elijah and the Prophets of Baal" was the subject of the talk to the teachers, being a discussion of next Sunday's lesson.

Rev. Pettingill is not here preaching trial sermons. He is a personal friend of John Van Gorder, a deacon of the church, and has been Van Gorder's examiner for several years, in a Bible course. Rev. Pettingill is on his way to Denver, Col., where he will attend the Rocky Mountain Bible conference and then to Wheaton near Chicago, where he will deliver talks at Wheaton college.

He left Thursday for Cincinnati but will be back Saturday to deliver sermons at the Baptist church Sunday morning and Sunday evening.

AUTO GOES OVER BANK NEAR THE FEURT PLACE

An automobile party consisting of Miss Nannie Foley, of Grandview avenue, Miss Louise Egbert of Offshore street and Mrs. A. Tracey of Grandview avenue figured in an exciting, but extremely lucky auto accident Wednesday evening while motoring out the Scioto trail.

When Miss Foley, who was at the wheel of the car, attempted to turn around near the Feurt place something went wrong with the steering apparatus of the car and before it could be stopped the machine left the paved roadway and plunged down a 40 foot embankment, the machine going almost to the N. & W. tracks before it came to a stop. Luckily it did not turn over and none of its occupants was hurt. They were badly frightened as they had a remarkably close call from serious injury and possible death.

Two horses had to be secured to pull the machine back on the road. It was not damaged and was driven to the city under its own power.

We have the lists and the books, together with all the necessary paraphernalia. Secure your school supplies now and avoid the rush. W. W. Kelly & Co., 841 Gallia St. adv-2

The assailant, Charles Beeler, who is held at the county jail, is the worst injured of the two, and is unable to sit up for any length of time. He will be arraigned before Squire Walden on a charge of cutting with intent to kill as soon as he is able to make the trip to Sciotoville.

Back To Old Time

Chief W. T. McCarty's order calling for night patrolmen to report a half hour earlier and go off duty a half hour later was rescinded Wednesday evening because of snafus in the ranks.

When the chief's attention was called to the dissatisfaction of the officers he agreed that there was good ground for it, saying that he had not realized that the nights were getting shorter. Accordingly he ordered the men back on the original schedule of reporting for duty at 6:30 p. m. and going off duty at 1:30 a. m.

The mayor has generously donated the service of the city service wagon to the donation committee to collect up the various donations given by the business men. So be ready to give, should you see the service wagon in front of your place of business.

JEWELRY A NECESSITY

Jewelry as a necessity and not as a luxury was one of the strong movements endorsed by the National Retail Jewellers' Association at their meeting last week in New York, said Albert Zoellner, Thursday.

"It was argued that jewelry is just as much of a necessity as clothes, shoes or hats and its sale as a need and not as an ornament will be advocated by jewelers throughout the country," Mr. Zoellner continued. He says there were about 700 jewelers present from the four corners of the United States and that the meeting was one of the most enthusiastic he has ever attended. Mr. Zoellner was again honored by being made a member of the committee on membership.

Politicians There

ROOTS OUT CORNS BY PENETRATION

Dr. Hunt Finds the Quick, Clean, Painless, Effective Way. ONLY 10c.

Cutting a corn never cured it. Cauterizing liquids only irritate blood poisoning, and stimulate further corn growth. Corn pads are bulky and squeeze the toes. Salves are greasy. But the one way that does cure corns of all kinds and sizes is the penetration way, discovered by Dr. Hunt, of Sidney, Ohio, a medical man who has spent a lifetime in the development of this new principle of curing corns by penetration.

Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure comes in the form of clean, handy powder. Six packets in a box. Try plaster slice of corn and apply. Instantly the pain is eased. All you feel is the soothing effect. The plaster does not bulk up like clumsy pads.

Now see what happens: In two days the corn has become so thoroughly penetrated that it can be easily and quite painlessly lifted out, root, branch and all.

Remember, this principle is new. It is different from anything else offered as a permanent cure for stubborn corns. And a box full costs only ten cents. Money back if not delighted. Sold by druggists and shoe dealers everywhere. Or, send ten cents in stamps to American Chemical Company, Sidney, Ohio.

Store Open Saturday Night Until 9 O'Clock

The New Autumn Styles and "Gossards"

THE ADVANCE FALL SUITS ARE DELIGHTFULLY WEARABLE—although it is obvious to all that in order to wear them successfully it is important that a woman be carefully corseted. The American woman has always liked the graceful, natural appearance of the long, curved waist line, and is therefore welcoming the new figure that emphasizes this feature and is further characterized by the slightly raised bust and perfectly flat back.

Hard, indeed, to accomplish successfully! The discriminating woman who realizes that the season's smart silhouette depends upon the perfection of the most minute details in her corset has found the answer in a Gossard.

U. S. SEES PEACE WITH GERMANY

FOUR TURKISH TRANSPORTS SENT TO BOTTOM BY BRITISH SUBMARINES

SULTAN'S BOATS TORPEDO VICTIM

Paris, Sept. 2.—2:35 p. m.—Four Turkish transports have been torpedoed by British submarines.

WOMEN TO ARREST MEN LOITERERS

New York, Sept. 2.—The police matrons will be sent out on detective duty tonight, according to an announcement from police headquarters to help enforce the new vagrancy law designed against men who annoy women on the streets. The new law, which went into effect yesterday, places street loiterers of both sexes on the same footing. Thirteen women were subject to arrest on the streets were immune from arrest unless formal complaint was made against them by the women they annoyed.

Under the new statute offenders of both sexes may be sent to the workhouse for from 10 days to 6 months, according to the gravity of the case. The law provides for no fine.

TAFT IS HONOR GUEST AT FRISCO

San Francisco, Sept. 2.—William H. Taft, former president, was the honor guest at the Panama-Pacific Exposition today. Mr. Taft was to deliver an address on "Preparedness" and following his speech was to be presented with a loving cup in remembrance of his friendship when San Francisco was seeking congressional recognition as the official exposition city.

One of the features of the day's exercises was the planting of a redwood tree by Mr. Taft with the same silver spade he used to break ground for the exposition four years ago. Mrs. Taft was the guest of honor of the women's board of the exposition.

AUSTRALIANS USE TRENCH MORTARS AT DARDANELLES IN FIGHTING TURKS

This curious weapon which is being used with such telling effect against the Turks in the Dardanelles campaign is a trench mortar, and one of the new engines of war which has been brought into play during the present European affair. It is mounted on boxes, and, judging from the way it is handled when fired, there is considerable risk attached to the operator of the weapon, for while one arm directs the fire of the trench mortar the other arm pulls the slug which sets it off.

WAS CARNIVAL QUEEN

Queen Tattiana XV, who in private life is Miss Mildred Morgan, is shown here arrayed in the robes and crown which she wore in the grand parade at the silver jubilee baby carnival at Audubon Park, N. J., a few days ago.

TWO KILLED IN MIDNIGHT JOY RIDE

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 2.—A large automobile, containing a party of eight young people, from Leroy and Pavilion, left the road at Sherington's Corners, east of Munford, near midnight last night, crashed through a fence and was wrecked against a tree. Two of the occupants were instantly killed and the others injured, one seriously. The dead were George B. Cook, Pavilion, and Miss Mary Luttrell, Leroy.

The party was returning from a ride to Scottsville. The car skidded when Cook, who was driving, attempted to take the curve at a high rate of speed.

425,000 HORSES SHIPPED

Washington, Sept. 2.—To date 425,000 horses and mules have been shipped out of the United States for the European belligerents, department of agriculture officials said today. The supply is not being seriously depleted, government officials estimating that there are today approximately 21,000,000 horses and four million mules in this country.

THE WEATHER

Ohio—Fair tonight and Friday.

JAIL DOCTOR'S WIFE AFTER NEGROES SAY SHE ORDERED MURDER

Providence, R. I., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Elizabeth E. Mohr, wife of the physician who was fatally shot while on an automobile trip from this city to Newport on Tuesday night, was arrested today after three negroes had signed a written confession saying that Mrs. Mohr had hired them to kill the doctor.

The negroes are charged with murder. They are George W. Healis, the chauffeur, who was driving Dr. Mohr's car at the time of the shooting; Cecil V. Brown, formerly employed as a hushler by Dr. Mohr, and Henry Spellman, half-brother of Brown. No specific charge has been brought against Mrs. Mohr, who vehemently denies the accusation, which she characterized as absurd. Healis has been detained by the police since the shooting, as his account of the affair conflicted with that given by Miss Emily G. Burger, the doctor's assistant, who was in the automobile and who also was wounded.

Brown was taken into custody last night after Healis had told the police that he and the hostler had plotted to rob Dr. Mohr on the night of the shooting. The authorities did not believe the stories of the negroes and Brown was subjected to a searching examination, during which, the police say, he broke down and admitted that he was connected in the shooting, and that Mrs. Mohr had offered him $2,000 to kill her husband.

Healis and Spellman, questioned separately, corroborated Brown's story and the arrest of Mrs. Mohr followed.

Brown at first denied that he had any connection with the affair. He said he passed over the Nayatt road, where the shooting occurred, on a motorcycle, explaining that he was on his way to visit a friend at Riverside. Detectives who went to Riverside to investigate his story, returned with Spellman in custody. Spellman said that there was a plot against Dr. Mohr, and when Brown heard of Spellman's declaration, he made a detailed confession.

According to Brown's story, as given out by the police, Mrs. Mohr proposed several weeks ago that he kill Dr. Mohr, promising to pay him $5,000 nine days after the killing was accomplished. He said he asked Spellman to help him out, and brought his half-brother in to talk the matter over with Mrs. Mohr. Brown said, Spellman was to receive $1,000 and Brown and Healis $2,000 each. The arrangements for the shooting were carried out in detail, according to the confession. At a designated spot of the Nayatt road Healis stalled the engine of the automobile, and Brown and Spell-

ARCHBISHOP BURNETT IS BELIEVED LOST

The United States coast guard cutter "Bear," which carried mails to Point Barrow, the most northerly point of Alaska, has brought word to Nome that no word of Vilajalmur Stefansson, the explorer, and his two companions had been received. Belief is growing that all three have perished. Stefansson, accompanied by Ole Anderson and Storke Starkensson, left the Mackenzie river April 7, 1914, going north over the ice, and expecting, in the event that the quest failed, to turn east to reach Banksland.

WILL COURT MARTIAL PORTUGUESE REBELS

Paris, Sept. 2.—Dispatches from the Portuguese frontier says the Journal's Madrid correspondent, state that persons arrested as the result of the insurrectionary movement at Braga have been taken to Oporto, where they will be court-martialed.

At Oporto insurgents tried to storm the barracks but were repulsed by rifle fire. Although the government professes to attach no importance to the revolutionary movement, every precaution has been taken and it has been announced that any one approaching the barracks, or military buildings, night or day, will be shot at sight.

SUFFRAGE LEADERS WANT FINAL RULING

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Suffrage leaders in Illinois will seek a final ruling in the courts on the right of Illinois women to vote for National delegates, as well as presidential electors, in the event of adverse rulings of election officials, it was announced today. A decision favorable to the women would bring into the election figures several hundred thousand feminine voters who for the first time would have an opportunity to express themselves on the candidates for the national convention.

GENERAL APPOINTED

Petrograd, Sept. 1 (via London, Sept. 2).—Official announcement was made today that Gen. Yanushevich, chief of Grand Duke Nicholas' staff, has been appointed assistant viceroy of the Caucasus. He will be succeeded as chief of staff by General Alexiev, commander in chief of the armies on the northwestern front.

OFFICIALS ARE SURE KAISER'S EDICT WILL SETTLE ALL DISPUTES

Washington, Sept. 2.—With both oral and written assurances from the German government, transmitted through Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, to the state department regarding Germany's submarine policy, officials of the Washington government today looked hopefully forward for an ultimate and satisfactory settlement of the whole submarine problem. Assurance is given that liners will not be sunk by German submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of non-combatants, provided the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance.

Count Von Bernstorff's letter contained the information that the new policy of Germany had been decided upon before the steamer Arabic was sunk. Officials here are gratified with the German announcement, as it is thought to end the crisis in the relations between the two governments. They consider that the way has now been prepared for a final adjustment of all differences.

Germany's next communication, it was authoritatively stated, will be a formal disclaimer of the sinking of the Arabic, and reparation will be made for American lives lost in the disaster if the attack was made by a German submarine.

With the situation growing out of the Arabic incident out of the way, Germany's reply to the last American note on the Lusitania will be forthcoming. If that is satisfactory to the United States, it is believed that the Washington government will then turn its attention to the problem of neutral commerce. A note to Great Britain already is in course of preparation. The two issues, however, are being kept on a strictly distinct, and, President Wilson having consistently refused to allow the question of neutrality and commerce to be involved along with the submarine problem.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., TO VOTE ON PROHIBITION

St. John's, N. F., Sept. 2.—The question of prohibition of the liquor traffic is the leading issue today in the politics of this colony.

Government authorities will arrange for an election in November, when a vote will be taken on a prohibition bill referred to the people by the last legislature. As there will be great difficulty in importing into a territory completely surrounded by water, it is believed that if prohibition should become a fact in New Foundland, the world would see the most complete demonstration of the working of a prohibition law ever known.

GERMANY'S DECISION KEPT FROM PEOPLE?

London, Sept. 2.—The German public has been kept in ignorance of any concession to the United States concerning submarine warfare, according to the London Times, which asserts that German newspapers of Saturday and Sunday make no mention of a change in policy and refer only briefly to the Arabic case.

The British admiralty's revelation regarding the loss of many submarines, also has been concealed from the German people, the Times asserts.

PARIS POLICE LOOK FOR ALLEGED TRUST

Paris, Sept. 2.—Acting on charges made in the report of the chamber of deputies committee on commerce and industry that a trust has been formed to illegally corner the supply of calcium carbide, large quantities of which are used by the army for lighting purposes, Paris police are searching the offices of a number of companies engaged in its manufacture and sale.

Cattle Tick Costs U. S. Just $901,000,000

Washington, Sept. 2.—The cattle tick cost the United States approximately $901,000,000 during the past year, according to estimates by Dr. A. D. Melvin, chief of the federal bureau of animal industry today.

ITS GLORY DEPARTED.

In what we are going to say here we must open by protest that we have neither purpose nor desire to trench upon the province of the rare and wise Dolly Wise. To her we leave for solution and direction the eternal problems of the maid forlorn, Blue Eyes, the allaying household terrors of Mrs. B. Lackberry, Jam and choice of colors and styles for Giddy Girl, leave them willingly, aye, even joyously to lament the glory of the departed—the watermelon.

As a boy who, when the moon was darkest, could tell to a scientific certainty whether or not the watermelon was full, ripe, and here was just one thing made for boys that "ma" couldn't cook into something and make a fellow eat it when he wanted something else awful bad, as man we confess to a secret delight in this most luscious of vegetables because of its apparent power to resist the skill of the most clever chef to make it up into something else. Verily, was it a joy to the hotel life that there was one thing left that couldn't be spoiled in the cooking, for the mere simple reason it couldn't be cooked at all.

But as the years slip by so our sorrows and our joys along and away on their crests and so is going and has, in fact, gone the watermelon.

It is all owing to those pestiferous experts over Washington way. They have kept projecting around until they have found a way to perpetrate the watermelon beyond its natural reign and thus robbed it of its glory, which lay altogether in the brevity of its career. In other words they have discovered methods to jelly it and preserve it and jam it, though we would like to spell that last process with a different first letter. But what do you think is the chief use they now propose to put it to? Why, molasses. Think of that, the food of the gods converted into plain, plebeian molasses, cheaper and more saccharine than the New Orleans variety. That sure coats your palate, but that is just what.

How is it done? Just take off the rind and take out the seeds and crush the pulp with a potato masher, or if you have a cider press you can put the whole of the melons, broken in part, and run it through that. Five-sixths of the red of the melon, and it is best to use only the pulp, will thus turn to water. The fluid is put on and boiled to a temperature of 220 degrees, or if that can not be measured, until on cooling it becomes about as thick as maple syrup. The finished product is used for molasses and does exceptionally well in flavoring ginger cakes and ices.

DOTH PROTEST TOO MUCH.

For the past four days our good young Governor has been issuing a proclamation every odd hour declaring he had anything to do with encouraging a referendum on the McDermott law, which changes the method of appointing liquor license commissioners. As a mere incident, of course, the large part of his multitudinous harangues are given to denouncing the traducers, who coupled his name with the unholy undertaking.

May he be he had nothing to do with the referendum, but the more vehemently he denies he did the more is suspicion aroused that he at least winked at it. As a matter of fact so strongly does the evidence point to the fact that close to the shrine of his official household were connected with it, that ignorance on his part is a blunder and in statesmanship blunder is worse than crime.

That political repud of the new statute would be assumed to the advantage of his administration is apparent enough, since if the McDermott law stands the selection will go to certain county officials and this would enable the Democrats to control a large part of them, if not actually a majority, while if the referendum should carry our good young Governor would have personal control over the whole lot and parcel. It is not denied, after the furious chase which he has personally set afoot for the state jobs, both big and little, this would be an entirely acceptable situation to him.

Out in Illinois three companies of militia are guarding a jail, in which a negro is confined, to keep him from being lynched and according to veracious accounts, this very man's town, a negro highwayman's life was saved from an infuriated gathering of citizens Saturday night, by the opportune arrival of the police. All wrong, of course, but it shows human nature, at least the white part of it, is about the same wherever the clouds roll.

Having appointed another Ada man or two on the civil service board, our good young Governor can now be expected to get such rulings and orders as may be desired to shake the rabble of Democratic office-holders loose from their jobs and place only the appointed in their stead.

And so summer is gone and there was no summer. But come to think of it summer is not officially over until September 21st. Brethren, let us live and hope. There is nothing in this living to being the oldest inhabitant and telling about the year there was no summer. What we want always is seasonable weather, except when we get it and then we want something else and don't get that.

Our good young Governor has ordered an investigation to learn if any members of his administration were connected with the work of securing a referendum on the McDermott license bill. Fake, hosh, rot. The good young Governor knows who of his own household stirred up the mess and he knows more, who winked at 'em.

One Berlin paper speaks of President Wilson in laudatory terms and rejoices that neither Bryan nor Roosevelt is now president. Why both, is hard to understand, but after awhile more German papers will understand Wilson better and will have praise for him too.

One of the things no man can understand is why a deep wide ditch should be left yawning and gaping for victims at the second most dangerous point in the county, the west end of the underground crossing between Portsmouth and Lucasville.

Some one wants to know what is a chauntiqua. It is no longer what it was and it will no longer be what it is. Well, we guess the best answer is, a chauntiqua is pretty much what the community will have, measured by its willingness to pay for it.

We make a guess on the appointment of Elmer Ottino to a Columbus job, that our good young Governor hasn't yet learned who is who here in Scioto county.

Reading the news in this faithful recorder of events, one finds there are a good many pinched by the police, but still few as compared with those who are pinched by poverty.

New York, Sept. 2.—The white aproned ladies who fetch "Ham and—German Fried and a Cup of Java," are to become unignited in Gotham. Mrs. Belle Donner, who is the queen of the food-toters, has issued a thunderous appeal for the waitresses to unionize.

She believes it is high time that they upheld their profession. These ladies are obliged to carry bread pudding and stewed apricots to undersized male shrimps who wear wrist watches, sport shirts and Charlie Chaplin mustaches.

Those who know say they should have a minimum wage scale of $7 a day—with two hours for lunch. In some of the white-filled cafeterias the waitresses are paid $12 a week, but for some peculiar reason their tips are always small. They are rarely tipped over a nickel. It may be that the men are abashed at offering such a small amount as their check would call for to the ladies.

Congressman George W. Loft, who made his fortune selling pure candy cheap to New Yorkers, told the snappiest yarn of the week at a banquet given complimentary to him by some of his friends.

Up on One Hundredth street there was a convivial citizen who had a habit of bringing boon companions home with him and as a result he frequently aroused his wife to deeds of reprisal.

"The executive office" has issued request to the owners of ponds to open drains for them. What is needed is to send out a gang of police with pick and shovel.

August played us false all through her existence, but the last and then she made sad with her going because she was all softness and sunshine.

Woman's stylishness consists, these days, in what she does not wear instead of what she does. Do you get that? If not, wait until winter comes and may be you will get an idea then.

Judging from the large number of dukes, lords and nobles slain in the war the price of titles to American girls is going to rule higher.

The other evening he went all "beered" up as the chorus girls say, but he was alone. At the foot of the stairs he called out to his wife: "Don't shoot! I'm not annoyed."

The Friends of Peace sent a 300 word telegram to President Wilson the other day informing him that Congress, and not he, has the power to declare war. Such telegrams, says Frank O'Brien sympathizingly, do no harm, and they help the Western Union to put up those nice tall office buildings.

Gertrude Hoffman, the dancer, has issued a bitter complaint to a world that is more or less interested in every little thing she does. In a dance in the vaudeville play "Samurai," Miss Hoffman, take it from the press agent—has to dye her skin brown and the war has made it impossible to get the chemical she needs to remove the stain.

Some one has flippantly suggested that maybe the city would lend her the sand blast it uses to clean its public structures.

Down at the Players Club an English actor was bidding his friends good bye preparatory to sailing for home next week. "If you are going abroad" one friend told him, "you may be interested in that remarkable sale of steam-trunks at Blank's on Fifth Avenue."

"Well, I don't know," was the halting reply. "I believe I will be more interested just now in a special sale of prayer books."

Jay Barnes, of the Morosco offices, has faced quite a puzzling problem lately. He was rushing into the Astor the other day for a bite to eat when in going through the revolving door he found himself in the same section with a lady. In the excitement he forgot to remove his hat and he wonders now if he was impolite.

A moving picture house was thrown open to the public the other night and a lot of the first nighters—including Diamond Jim—came in low-necked clothes and limousines. The new house is at Seventy-Seventh street and Broadway and is no different from any of the others, but it had a good press agent and made a regular "first night" affair out of it. It is said that some didn't know it was a picture house.

MAKE THE ROADS BETTER

BY JESSE TAYLOR
Editor of Better Roads and Streets

The new road law known as the "Cass Bill" will take effect Monday, September 6, 1915, and in it will be found many new and helpful provisions.

While there may be a few variations in the value of farm lands, there is an unquestioned fact, that as a general rule, the higher values are largely due to superior public roads.

The old saying, "a stitch in time saves nine" never applied more appropriately to a pair of pants than it does to the maintenance of a wagon road.

The transportation question will never be solved as long as it costs as much to carry a ton of agricultural products to the railroad station as it does to carry it four hundred miles over a railroad.

Mud knows neither the farmer, the rural mail carrier, nor the automobile owner. Mud may have a place in nature but we have no use for it in the middle of the road.

Improved roads are the earmarks of civilization, the evidence of intelligent, education and refinement, but bad roads are the sign of backwardness, indolence, or a careless citizenship.

Are you in favor of improved roads? If not, you don't belong in Ohio.

The state highway improvement fund produced by the state levy of three-tenths of one mill shall be applied to the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of inter-county and main market roads—seventy-five per cent to inter-county highways and twenty-five per cent to main market roads.

The funds derived from the registration of automobiles shall be equally divided and one-half shall be applied, and used, in the maintenance and repair of inter-county highways and one-half to the maintenance and repair of main market roads, and from the pair appropriated for use on main market roads the state highway commissioner is authorized to establish a system of maintenance to be organized in such manner as the state highway commissioner may provide.

The state highway commission, maintenance and repair of the required standard, all inter-county highways, main market roads and bridges and culverts constructed by the State, or taken over by the State after being constructed.

The construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of main market roads established by law, may begin at any point and shall be constructed with plans, details and specifications adopted by the chief highway engineer, with the approval of the state highway commissioner.

County commissioners, township trustees and village councils, shall have the same power and authority to co-operate in the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of main market roads as is granted to them in the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of inter-county highways.

The annual state road levy of three-tenths of one mill is in addition to all other levies for any purpose or purposes, and shall not be constructed as limited, restricted or decreased in amount or otherwise by any existing law.

The state highway commissioner may extend a proposed road into or through a village when the consent of the council of said village has first been obtained.

POLLY AND HER PALS

COUNCIL PLANS TO RESTORE FLOOD WALL AT "POINT"

Recommendations of the Board of Trade and Retail Merchants' Association relative to restoring the flood wall at the Seaside Point were promptly acted upon by City Council, Wednesday night, when it went on record as declaring for the immediate letting of a contract as soon as funds were available and making it a part of the general flood wall extension plan.

The initiative in the movement to restore the Point with all possible haste was assumed by Frank Schmank, councilman from the First Ward. He urged that there not be the slightest delay, saying that it was important to the entire city that the gap at the extreme west end of the city be closed for the time of the year was approaching when there is danger of high water. He felt the restoration of the flood wall there ought to go with the main wall extension or ahead of it and upon his motion it was declared the sense of council that a contract be awarded at the earliest possible moment.

Discussions developed the fact that by eliminating the "wing wall" on Officers street from the Ridge to near Third street, the engineer's estimate of which was $5500 and the $4000 left in the $70,000 flood wall bond issue over the estimate for the main wall addition, there will be practically enough money on hand with which to restore the Point, the estimated cost of which is $10,000.

Recommended By Board of Control

It was pointed out that such is the recommendation of the Board of Control, Jackson street property owners preferring to take their chances on another freshet for another year rather than have that "wing wall" built.

The request of Chairman Geo. Gulker, of the street committee, for further time on the other proposal of the above civic bodies recommending the purchase of three houses on the north side of Second street, west of Massie to provide a better approach to the new county bridge, was granted.

Council upon the recommendation of Chairman Charles W. Wilson, of the police and fire committee, decided to hold an informal meeting, some time next week, to consider the "jitney" bus ordinance.

Mr. Wilson, meanwhile, will confer with City Solicitor Stanley McCall on the merits or legality of the measures the promoters of the "jitney" ordinance are asking. He felt it was a matter in which the entire membership of council was interested.

Say City Dads

Council refused to be drawn into the latest plan of the "jitney" people to force the street railway company to make the street repairs ordered by the public service department some time ago, contending that such was a matter entirely up to that department.

The subject was brought up when Director William Gergens presented the letter that had been addressed to him by Attorneys Blair and Kimble, counsel for the "jitney" people. Mr. Gergens said that the street railway company had done some repairing since he served a notice upon it and that it was its purpose to improve one street every year, expecting to take up Ninth or Eleventh street and relay them next year. The company felt it was hard pressed with the extensive work it has been doing this summer, namely the laying of new tracks on Gallia street, at East Portsmouth and New Boston and the building of the traction line to Hanging Rock.

Claim Franchise Can Be Revoked

It is understood the "jitney" people are contending that unless the street railway company obeys orders to repair tracks and streets its franchise can be revoked.

Rules were suspended and an ordinance passed to proceed with the improvement of Mabert Road from Gallia street to the north corporation line. It was announced that service had been completed on all property owners and no damage claims presented.

A communication from Armstrong Place property owners asking for a sewer of sufficient depth to drain their cellars caused a lively discussion. It developed that the petition was signed by the property owners of only the east side and not all of them. City Engineer Wilhelm thought the sewer might be figured as a future sanitary sewer, once the city was permitted to use Lawson Run as a sewer and believed it a good scheme to permit its use for storm and cellar drainage until that time. He said the plan was to assess the cost of the sewer against the properties and consider it as a part of the whole improvement plan. He favored taking care of Linden avenue in a similar manner although there was no desire among property owners there to have their cellars drained. Some of the members were of the opinion that this was a private matter if all property owners on one side were not benefited the same as those on the other side but Solicitor McCall held that the city could assess the one side so benefited. President W. E. Cook warned that the people of that section were going to oppose street paving unless proper drainage was first provided. It was finally decided a matter of sufficient importance to warrant investigation and was referred to the street committee for a report.

Sunnyside To Get New Sewer

Other ordinances passed by city council under a suspension of the rules were the following:

Approving plans, specifications and estimates for a sanitary sewer in Sunnyside addition at a cost of $5,350.

Approving plans and estimates for a sanitary sewer in Walnut street extending from Plum to Norfolk street, $395; approving plans and estimates for the Tremper sanitary sewer east of Findlay street and extending from Thirteenth to Sixteenth street, $944.75; approving plans and estimates for a sanitary sewer in the first alley south of Gallia street and east from Beech street to Norfolk street, $215; approving plans and estimates for a combination storm and sanitary sewer in the alley abutting on the D. & O. S. W. railroad and extending 280 feet east from Norfolk street, $400.

Rejection of Flood Bonds Reported

Clerk George Gableman reported the rejection of the $70,000 flood wall bonds by the State Industrial Commission and the Sinking Fund trustees and the fixing of October 5 as the date of the sale of the bonds and the acceptance by the Sinking Fund trustees of the $2500 (city's proportion) Kendall avenue, Linden avenue and Armstrong Place bonds and the $15,000 sewer bonds.

Upon the recommendation of Chairman John Moeller council authorized the service department to install eight additional street lights at the following corners: Tenth and Scott streets; Eighth and Scott streets; Tenth and Moulton Place; Kendall avenue and Gallia street; Twentieth and High streets; Kinney Lane near Greenwood cemetery entrance; Chestnut and Walnut streets; North Waller and Twenty-second streets. He recommended that the light for Chestnut and Walnut street be temporarily placed at the end of Gallia pike until the work there is completed, then moved back to its designated place.

Property Owners Want New Sewer

A petition from property owners for a combination storm and sanitary sewer between Baird and Franklin avenues, from Seventeenth to Twenty-first street was referred to the solicitor and engineer for an estimate.

Council sat down upon a proposal of E. J. Zeigler to allow him to build his own sanitary sewer at Second and Madison streets and by paying the city $50 permit him to tap all of his buildings into it. Council took the position that the city had constructed all sewers in the past and should continue to do so. It expressed a willingness to build the sewer there to relieve unsanitary conditions, but he should pay the regular tapping fees. It was argued that to tap all his buildings into the sewer would be equivalent to $150.

Mr. Schmank felt that stress should be laid by council on the importance of compelling all property owners to tap into sanitary sewers or have the city put in taps and charge the cost against the properties.

COMPLAIN ABOUT WOMEN WHO PRAY TOO LOUD; ALSO OBJECT TO BIRD

Mrs. Ed L. Allen, of 2015 Seventh street, complains that the police are not doing anything towards relieving unbearable conditions in her neighborhood.

The police declare that Mrs. Allen complains about one thing or another frequently, and that her husband even complained a few nights ago that a bird in a tree near his home was annoying him. Mrs. Allen when asked about this by the Times, Thursday, said that complaint referred to sparrows with which the neighborhood was over-run but said that was some time ago.

Mrs. Allen's chief complaint is directed against a neighbor who with girls rooming at her home, have according to Mrs. Allen, adopted the practice of praying morning, noon and night. "They don't pray, like other people but yell and pound also," said she. Mrs. Allen said that they belong to the "Holy Roller" church.

The Movies

"East Lynne" Columbia Today
"East Lynne," one of the most popular books ever written, and as a stage production, one of the most popular plays ever presented, is the picture offering at the Columbia today.

This picture production is a careful and complete reproduction of this interesting story and is better than either the book or the play as many beautiful outdoor scenes are shown in the picture, which is impossible in the play.

Be sure and see "East Lynne" at the Columbia today.

Tomorrow is Paramount Day and this week's Paramount picture is "The Blue," a powerful and interesting five reel production featuring Miss Blanche Sweet.

More than any other photodrama yet staged by the Lasky Feature Play Co., "The Blue," in which Blanche Sweet makes her fourth appearance under this management, may be described as a drama of intrigue.

Two Russians, Count Boris and his brother Alexis, have stolen plans of the Japanese coast defenses which they are planning to take to London and sell there to a representative of the German government. As they pass through America they seek to acquire wealth by attempting to marry rich American girls. The brother of the girl to whom Alexis is paying marked attentions has as his valet a Japanese, who is really a secret agent of his government and who, learning of the existence of the map, seeks to recover it. This causes him to murder Alexis. The complications of this event almost work a hopeless wrong for the American family before the identity of the real murderer is finally discovered by an expert detective.

"The Blue" is one of those fascinating dramas which must be followed with the most absolute attention from the very first moment in order to lose nothing of the story. The sharpest minds will be puzzled to unravel the mystery until the solution is finally presented on the screen.

"Four Feathers" At The Lyric Today

The Metro Picture Corporation presents the illustrious stage star, Howard Baskin, in A. R. E. W. Mason's thrilling romance of the battlefield, "Four Feathers," a stirring five act war drama, classed as one of the most powerful dramas of its kind ever produced. The story of Captain Mason's "Four Feathers" concerns Harry Everham, son of General Everham, who, at a banquet at his father's home, hears stories of war, death and torture and fears that he, when put to the test, cannot "make good." When war is declared he resigns his commission in the army. Three of his comrades send him white feathers, the symbol of cowardice, and his fiancée, who sees him receive them, adds a fourth from her fan.

Stung by this FEVERISH drops from sight. Secretly he goes to Egypt where the war is being fought between the English and Arabs, and in disguise as a Greek he recovers lost documents of great value, rescues from death and torture each of his three comrades and forces from them such recognition of his heroism that they demand the return of their white feathers.

He tells them simply: "Take them to her," and finally, on his return to England, she is waiting for her feather on a wedding ring.

"Four Feathers" today, so don't fail to see this big production for ten cents.

BUILDING NOT COMPLETED, SCHOOL OPENING POSTPONED

September 20th is the date set for the opening of the Sciotoville school. This was decided upon at a meeting of the school board and County Superintendent E. O. McCowan held Wednesday evening in the Sciotoville school.

The new $25,000 high school building is not yet completed, had weather causing Contractor Dave Bahner to get behind in his contract. The school building was to have been completed by September 1st, but several jobs about the building are incomplete. The interior fixtures are being rapidly installed. Everything is expected to be ready by September 20th, the later opening giving the pupils two more weeks of summer vacation.

The schools at Lakeside, Star Yards, Wait's Station and Hartley will open as intended September 7th, next Tuesday. It was decided upon several months ago that the Sciotoville high school should be a four-year, first grade high school. The new building and a four-year high school course are two things Sciotoville should be proud of. The domestic science course, also decided upon several weeks ago was discussed. It was decided to teach domestic science in the first and fourth grades. Miss Verna Segur, of Huron, O., has been appointed instructor in the domestic science course. Her salary was fixed at $75 per month at the meeting Wednesday evening. She is a graduate of Hiram University and formerly held a position at Ohio State University and comes to Sciotoville highly recommended.

ARM BROKEN

Jacob Johns, aged 80 years, a veteran retired drayman, suffered a compound fracture of his right elbow in an accident at his home, No. 930 Eighth street, Tuesday.

Mr. Johns was engaged in sweeping dirt from his porch roof when he noticed a loose shingle on the roof proper. He started to remove it when he lost his balance and fell with the above result. Drs. Fitch and Allard attended him and he is still suffering greatly from the shock.

Those familiar with the accident say Mr. Johns showed more pluck than would most people half his age.

Deaf Mutes Are To Picnic Labor Day

The deaf of Portsmouth will hold a picnic at Millbrook park on Labor Day. Not only the deaf of this city, but also a large delegation of deaf from Huntington and Charleston, W. Va., and Ashland, Ky., will attend, and if the plans carry out, without doubt the gathering of deaf will be the largest ever attempted in Portsmouth, and it will be hard to beat for many years to come.

The committee on arrangements composed of Martin Maynard, chairman, Cecil Marple, Julius Maynard and William Cooper have been busy in perfecting the plans. The following games have been decided upon and prizes will be awarded to the winners:

1. Baseball (Married vs. Singles) 10 a. m.
2. Fifty-yard dash, backward (ladies).
3. Three-legged race (men).
4. Potato race (ladies).
5. Sack race (men).
6. Ball throwing (ladies).
7. Fungo hitting (men).

The singles have been in training for several days to trim the married in a baseball game. Their only trouble is the difficulty in signing Martin Taylor, who has been determined to be neutral, but an ultimatum has been handed him, demanding him to revoke his neutrality by 9 o'clock Monday morning. Sensational news will leak out by that time.

Fate seems to be against the pulling off of the great pitching stunt of John Jarrel for the married, his once much touted "S. S. W. M. Day." When in the singles-married game last year the captain forgot to call for his pitching, which was to have brought fame to the married, and John Jarrel, the latter consoled himself with the resolution to bring it off this year. He advertised his intentions with the result that when the game between the singles and married was arranged, his friends grew expectant. Both Jarrel and the crowd are doomed to another disappointment, as not long ago Jarrel was operated upon for appendicitis, and his sagacity in pitching is gone, too, and the game is only about four days off.

By noon all will sit down to a bounteous chicken dinner that will be prepared by the ladies, and after that the games will start.

The committee will be glad to have these deaf children who still attend school come and join the crowd. If they are to be escorted by their parents, they will also be invited. As it will be impossible to identify all young deaf, their parents may approach the committee and introduce their children.

To all deaf of the world: Come one, come all, and spend a pleasant time with us on Labor Day.

WAL. COOPER,
Committee on Publicity.

The principal feature of the dinner was the appearance of Miss Lubovska in her futurist dance.

STARTED A RUMPUS

Taylor, according to Gus Hoemer, one of the proprietors, came into the cafe with a crippled pencil vendor and vilified everybody who refused to buy from him. He was released Thursday, with orders to appear for trial Friday morning.
